School, college balloting Saturday

Voting is set for 12 noon to 7 p.m. Saturday in the three local school districts and in Community College District 522, which operates the Belleville Area College.

Nine board members are to be elected—three college trustees and two board members each in the Granite City, Madison and Venice public school systems.

Voting for BAC trustees will take place simultaneously with the school board elections, Quad-City polling place officials handling both duties.

Candidates for two Granite City board positions are: L. Monroe Worthen, 2845 Fortune Drive, an incumbent board member, and Thomas George Miskaly, 3135 Colgate Place, and Stan Welch, 3877 Rodney, Apt. 1.

There is no opposition for two incumbent Madison Board of Education members—Willie Walker, 645 Meredocia St., and David Miskaly, 1801 Third St. Venice School Board contenders are two incumbents who are campaigning together, Fred W. Rumpf, 626 Washington Ave., and Willie C. Johnson, 500 Third St.; two Eagle Park area residents, Eddie Lee Salmund, 93 Hill St., and Miss Annie Mosby, 215a Terry St.; and two others running as a "team," Charles Burger, 1034 Third St.,

Plan to revamp police station

Remodeling of the Granite City police headquarters on the ground floor of the City Hall and replacement of ten police autos are among the budgeting proposals submitted Monday night to Granite City aldermen, who are preparing the 1975-76 city budget.

Cost estimates are $40,000 for the autos and $25,000 to remodel the radio room, squad room, garage area, locker room, assistant chief's office, the office of the chief's secretary and the patrol and service bureau offices.

A proposed allocation for radio equipment, antennas and recording equipment to upgrade communications capabilities is $28,000, or $23,000 more than a 1974-75 budget item of $5,000 for ten radios, antennas and installation.

Police Chief Ronald J. Veizer commented in a letter distributed to city officials, "It is apparent that the city will not be able to provide a new police facility for some time, and it is necessary to do some remodeling of our basement facilities to bring them up to par."

"Our facilities are open to the public 24 hours a day, and at least 80 per cent of our citizens who come to City Hall make their way to or through our facility."

Chief Veizer also related that he is "requesting two patrolmen to bring our department up to 56 men. I would propose adding one man to the investigative division and one to the patrol division."

"As you know by our annual report, we have not only shown a decrease in crime but an increase in clearances. Two additional men could help alleviate the workload."

"Our detectives have as many as 20 cases assigned to each one of them at any given time. In the patrol division, we have proven that 'omnipresence' works in our town."

The chief cited a 1975 study of the Granite City police communications command and control system by the Police Service Bureau.

The study recommended that:

1. A program be initiated for redesign of the present communications facility.
2. Consistent with facility redesign, a program be undertaken to modernize communications systems and procedures.
3. A schedule be established for replacement of the police station's radio equipment.

4. An engineering program be undertaken to reduce or eliminate radio interference problems.

5. A telephone survey be accomplished to establish the required number of operational lines and administrative telephones be separated from the emergency operations center.

6. The redesign of the com-

Mass murder in Vietnam forecast

National Annets Commander Essley B. Burdine of Decatur, Ga., estimated here this week that more than one million South Vietnamese will be annihilated if North Vietnamese forces shortly gain full control over all of South Vietnam.

Speaking at a luncheon and reception Monday at Quad-City Annets Post 51, the national veterans' officer said, "As is the history of the Communists—in the invasion of China, where they annihilated seven million people; in Russia, three million; and elsewhere, countless others—I anticipate over one million people will be disposed of in South Vietnam."

"I believe that within two years, Thailand, Laos and all of Southeast Asia will be in the Communist domain."

Easements will be sought at Mitchell

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

The Chouteau Township annual electors' meeting Tuesday night at the Fun and Sun Resort in Mitchell was followed by a lengthy discussion on progress of the Four Township Sanitary Sewer program.

At the informal session which followed the brief annual meeting, Chouteau Township Supervisor Walter T. "Dick" Sparks announced that many blank easement forms for the sewers have been prepared, and that a public meeting will be held Sunday afternoon, April 27, to discuss the program.

Persons attending the public meeting will be requested to aid in having the easement forms signed by their friends and their neighbors to allow the sewer to be constructed through their properties.

"We will discuss the sewer plans, answer questions and review the manner of obtaining easements, and then will seek volunteers to obtain more than 3,000 easements," Sparks explained.

He added that 30-foot-wide easements will be required to allow equipment through during construction. But after the sewer is laid, the property can be used by the property owners and the easement will apply, in effect, only to the land directly above the sewer line, rather than the 30-foot width.

If sewer repairs should become necessary, rights to the 30-foot easements still could be used during the repairs, he explained.

Sparks emphasized that the success of the sewer program depends on residents giving free easements.

"If people want to charge us, say $5 a foot, for easements, the entire program would be impossible. You are just going to run your sewer bills way up."

"If the people do not want to give us free easements, then we will not have the sewers."

New sewer lines called unavoidable

The city's latest sanitary sewer break, which caused part of Franklin Avenue to collapse between Pontoon Road and Amos Avenue late Monday afternoon, was discussed in detail by Granite City aldermen Monday night.

Alderman Emerald Dawes of the Seventh Ward told the council, "I think we are going to have to stop patching and get new sewers in the Nameoki area—get them (the sewers) out of this water."

"This is serious. It is on the main line and if this line backs up, we're going to have many basements full."

Dawes said the Nameoki stormwater ditch is getting filled up with polluted water.

"By summer, we're going to have a big mess," he remarked.

Alderman Sam Whitmer of the Second Ward agreed, saying the city has earmarked some federal revenue sharing funds for stormwater drainage. "It is time we used this money and started on sanitary sewers," he commented.

Mayor Paul Schuler noted that a study on area sewer problems and water tables here is being conducted by Dr. Robert Koopke, a geology professor at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

He said Dr. Koopke's report should be completed in the next week or two, after which the council should begin planning for a new sanitary sewer system in the Nameoki area.

Whitmer referred to the problem which is anticipated, saying, "We're looking somebody straight in the face with a bond issue in that area."

"Federal and state money may be available but are not going to be enough."

"We also are going to need local money and we are going to have to decide whether to issue general revenue or general obligation bonds."

Franklin collapse gigantic

A new major sanitary sewer break developed in the 3000 block of Franklin Avenue, between Pontoon Road and Amos Avenue and caused the street to collapse at about 4:30 p.m. Monday, a short time after the Granite City Street Department had erected barricades to keep traffic off the pavement.

Raw sewage had been noticed in increasing quantities in stormwater sewers in that area recently, leading officials to suspect a sewer had broken.

By late Sunday, much water, sewage and sand were visible near Franklin Avenue and on Monday afternoon the decision was made to barricade the street. It was felt that a water line might have broken, due to

Fate of 2 Madison crossings uncertain

A suggestion by the Illinois Commerce Commission to install railroad warning lights at the tracks between 13th and 14th streets in Madison—and to close Grand Avenue and Iowa streets to traffic between 13th and 14th street—met with total disapproval by the Madison City Council at its Tuesday evening meeting.

Casper S. Nighobossian, city attorney, reported that he and Frank Papa, the mayor's administrative aid, met in Springfield with the Illinois Commerce Commission and representatives of the Illinois Terminal Railroad in an effort to get flashing warning lights at the State Street crossing.

"I feel we are making progress, and we have another hearing scheduled in Springfield on May 9."

One suggestion made by the commission was to install lights at the Washington Avenue and State Street crossings and block off Grand Avenue and Iowa Street to through traffic belt-

River Fest signs Bob Hope and other stars

COMING TO RIVER FESTIVAL. Bob Hope, famed movie and television comedian, is scheduled to perform this summer at the Mississippi River Festival here.

Something for everyone "where the stars come out every night" has been pledged by the Mississippi River Festival in the 1975 season program announced Tuesday afternoon.

The seventh annual festival on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville opens June 30 and offers nearly 50 events in the eight weeks ending Aug. 20.

"We're convinced it will be the most exciting season, with the widest variety of entertainment and cultural enrichment, in the Festival's history," Lyle W. Ward, MRF managing director, said. "It truly is the place where the stars come out every night."

Bob Hope, Olivia Newton-John, Henry Mancini, A Nostalgic Night of Glenn Miller Music, The Osmonds, The Pointer Sisters, Mac Davis and Peter Nero will headline a series of "special" events scattered through the season.

ERECTING MEMORIAL. members of the Granite City Garden Club are assisted Tuesday by Granite City firemen. A Blue Star Memorial Highway marker was placed in front of the main Granite City Fire Station at 23rd Street and Madison Avenue. The memorials honor all veterans and note the 75th anniversary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. This marker will be dedicated on Memorial Day. Road design at speedway to be topic on Saturday

The Gateway Auto Racing Association, sanctioning body of weekly racing programs at Tri-City Speedway, will open its 1975 season Saturday, April 19. But racing promoter Ed Bloom is fearful of monumental traffic problems on the opening day due to incomplete construction work on Route 203, the main highway in front of the 5100 Namecki Road speedway. The design also is of concern to him.

"The highway division has constructed a beautiful highway," says Bloom, "but it failed to provide a break in the median for traffic access in and out of the speedway."

Bloom and the speedway's owner, Elvis Doolin of Granite City, will meet at 2 p.m. Saturday with Chouteau Township Supervisor Walter T. "Dick" Sparks, State Sen. Sam Vadalabene and several state representatives, including Horace Calvo, Joe Luocco, Monroe Flinn and Everett Steele, plus a representative of the Illinois Transportation Department to discuss the problem and conduct a tour of the local auto race track.

Supervisor Sparks, at a meeting Tuesday of the township board, said, "It seems the state refuses to put any more breaks in the median of Route 203, and the present plans do not call for a break at the speedway entrance."

"Imagine the problems," continued Sparks, "when south-bound traffic from Interstate 270 has to turn around at Maryville Road to get to the track. And after the races, everyone has to go north into Mitchell before being able to turn around and go south."

Sparks added he hopes there will be enough "clout" at Saturday's meeting to convince the state to put an opening in the median at the track entrance. The weekly racing program at Tri-City Speedway usually attracts 2,000 to 3,000 fans on each race date from Illinois and Missouri.

Route 203 is being reconstructed as a four-lane divided highway from I-270 to the Namecki-Pontoon Roads intersection.

Proceeds to help youths

The Granite City Optimist Club participates in pancake and sausage brunch Sunday, April 20, at the Namecki Recreation Center, Franklin and Amos Avenues, will raise funds for community projects.

Each year, the Optimist Club participates in projects to help live up to the slogan, "Friend of Youth." The club's projects include an annual scholarship for a youngster from Granite City, sponsorship of an oratorical contest whose prize is awarded in scholarship, and support of the United Way campaign.

Other projects include support of other youth-serving organizations, particularly Boy Scouts and the YMCA.

"The Optimist Club is made up of businessmen who realize their civic responsibility and their debt to the community. And we realize that youths hold the key to the future," David Brooks, chairman of the pancake event, said.

The brunch will be an "all-you-can-eat" event. Serving times will be 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. Tickets are $2 per adult and $1 per child aged 6-12. Tickets are available from Optimist members.

Gardenaires to dedicate memorial marker Friday

The first Blue Star Memorial Highway Marker to be erected in the immediate vicinity of the Quad-Cities and the first in Illinois to be installed on a university campus will be dedicated at 1:30 p.m. Friday in ceremonies at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The dedication program will be held at the marker site on the southern approach to SIUE, about three-fourths of a mile from Illinois Route 157, off University Drive.

Honoring all men and women who have served or are serving in the U.S. Armed Forces, the marker was purchased by the Gardenaires Garden Club of Granite City to commemorate the club's 20th anniversary.

It was erected in cooperation with the Association of Collegiate Veterans (ACV) at SIUE.

Making the official presentation will be Mrs. Charles (Jan) Kohl, Gardenaires president, and Gary Storey, SIUE Collegiate Veterans president.

Dr. John S. Rendleman, SIUE president, will accept the marker for the university. Presentation of the colors will be by members of the Collegiate Veterans—Dennis Barrett, John Kume, Mark Smith and Larry King.

Adding to the occasion will be placement of a memorial wreath at the base of the marker by Joseph P. Cox, a member of Barracks 0248, Veterans of World War I. He is the husband of Mrs. Carrie Cox, a charter member and former president of the Gardenaires Club. The couple now lives in Sparta, Ill.

Preceding the formal presentation, Mrs. Arvid Nelson of Trenton, District V director, Garden Club of Illinois, will lead the pledge of allegiance and the Rev. Glenn Davis, pastor of St. Paul's United Church of Christ, located adjacent to the campus perimeter, near Illinois Route 157, will give the invocation.

Mrs. Kohl will welcome the guests and Mrs. Stephen Shea of Belleville, Illinois chairman of the Blue Star Memorial Marker committee, will give a short history of "how highways and byways are chosen to be memorials to our military personnel."

Taps will be played by an Edwardsville High School student to conclude the ceremony.

Immediately following the dedication, a tea will be held at St. Paul's Church.

Representatives from 14 area garden clubs, including other Granite City gardening groups, have been invited to attend the tea and program.

Mrs. Kohl said, "Mrs. Alex Tarpoof of the Gardenaires is general chairman of the tea and presiding at the tea table will be Mrs. Abe Shannon, a charter member, and Mrs. C. E. Eads, immediate past president and current secretary."

Mrs. Kohl explained the memorial marker was acquired last fall under the leadership of Mrs. Eads, who was assisted by Mrs. Earl Glenn in planning the marker's location.

The dark brown metal sign, bearing the official seal of the National Council of State Garden Clubs, is centered with a bright blue raised star.

In addition to the inscription "Blue Star Memorial Highway" in brass lettering, the marker states:

"A tribute to the Armed Forces that have defended the United States of America. Sponsored by The Gardenaires Garden Club of Granite City in cooperation with Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and the Association of Collegiate Veterans."

Other members of the Gardenaires participating in Friday's dedication will be Mrs. William Long, vice-president; Mrs. Mary Kristian, treasurer; Mrs. Jerry Arbeiter, Mrs. John Farrell, Mrs. Roy Hornmann, Mrs. A. A. Malotki Jr. and Mrs. Leo Scharf.

Washington pupils entertain PTA

Brownie Troops 778 and 728 presented in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades at Washington School presented the program for PTA-members at a meeting last week at the school.

Mrs. Carol Rigby, Brownie leader, directed the girls in singing the "Brownie Smile Song" to open the presentation. Taking part were Cindy Rigby, Gina Collins, Neda Sanders, LeAnn Fanning, Angel Clark and Sandy Diak.

Brownie Troop 389 held a "fly-up" ceremony, conducted by Mrs. Janis Smith, leader, who presented each third grade girl a badge sash, with a year pin and Brownie wings attached.

Advancing Brownies were Tina Barton, Rosa Clark, Sarah Elberton, Monica Fanning, Kathy Hogue, Cindy Morris, Melissa Mooney, Vicki Smith, Patricia Thomas, Nancy Vincent and Tina White.

Three new girls, Stacey Angle, Karen Diak and Tina Vasquez, were welcomed into the Girl Scout troop and received their badge sashes.

The remainder of the program consisted of performances on gymnastic equipment under the direction of Miss Nancy Marti, physical education teacher.

Students selected to demonstrate their skills were Terry Means, Jeff Thresher, Keith Cook, Darrell Royer, Belinda Conley, Kimmi Stieford, Kathie Krug, Howard Yates, Cynthia Ingram, Dennis Conley, Judy Schuere, Cheryl Krug, Kevin Cook, Angela Griffith, Lisa Coleman, Darren Angle, Helen Boyer, Ricky Taylor, Vicky Griffith, Tina Hillis, Todd Angle, David Ingram, Eric Hankins and Donna Keeton.

Other routines were performed on parallel bars, sidehorse and balance beams by both boys and girls who excelled at a gymnastics meet. Students featured in the exhibition were Tina Hillis, Darren Angle, Donna Keeton, Angela Griffith, David Ingram, Cheryl Krug, Lisa Coleman, Todd Angle, Helen Boyer, Ricky Taylor and Vicky Griffith.

Danish rolls and coffee were served in the cafeteria after the program.

Minister's son ordained deacon

The Rev. and Mrs. Jack Smith, 3140 Myrtle Ave., have returned home after visiting with their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Smith and daughter, Shannon, in Ottawa, Ill.

While there, the local couple attended services at the First General Baptist Church in Ottawa, where their son was ordained a deacon. The Rev. Smith is pastor of Gracefield General Baptist Church.

Shelle Hartzel wins Grigsby 'bee'

In the "Spelling Bee" finals at Grigsby Junior High School last week, Shelle Hartzel captured top honors. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lile Hartzel, 109 Cynthia Lane.

The Grigsby student was presented a trophy by James Swanick, student council adviser, who served as moderator in the contest.

Seniors to aid agencies

Encouraging senior citizens to volunteer their time, talents and knowledge to help non-profit agencies and institutions is the aim of the new Retired Senior Volunteer program.

Mrs. Norma Mendoza, coordinator for the program in the Quad-Cities, spoke to the Monday Evening Kiwanis meeting in Charlie's restaurant.

Mrs. Mendoza told the club the program is administered through the Belleville Area College and funded by the federal government.

She said the program is new and its first volunteer senior citizen was Mrs. Anna Bucatelli, who is helping at St. Elizabeth hospital. Other volunteers are working at the local YMCA.

"Many of our senior citizens are active in well-organized groups, but there still are hundreds in the area who could perform a real service if they would volunteer their time," Mrs. Mendoza said.

She said that anyone interested in the program may call her at the local "Y" at 876-7200.

The Madison County Firemen's Association has purchased the former Biederman's Furniture building at 9510 Collinsville Road, and is in the process of preparing it for "training and recreation purposes," Jim Ray, Collinsville fire chief and president of the organization, has announced.

Ray said the building will be used for an upcoming firemen's convention, will be the site of an activity each Tuesday night, and will be available for rental to community groups.

Also planned are firemen's dances. The building will provide one of the largest gathering places in this area, Ray commented.

Firemen are cleaning and making necessary adaptations to the building and plan to open the facility May 4.

reported being prepared in Washington yesterday. It is believed to include selected groups of South Vietnamese who are considered marked for removal.

The possibility of evacuating between 100,000 and 150,000 of the people on merchant ships is being considered.

Recounting details of a fact-finding mission to Saigon made late last year, Commander Walter Nomm and Steve Basarich of the Fifth Mayor Schuler closed the discussion, saying, "It is very intricate. The health problem is very serious, but it may be an Dawes. I think we should start moving on this project and get it done.

"We are going to have trouble with the bond issue," he added.

Dawes said he felt the new sewers should be paid for by everyone in the city, not just residents of the Namooki area.

"The people who have paid for sewers for 20 years, I believe this (funding) should be a citywide project."

Easements

easements, we will have to take them to court and condemn the properties. But if a lot of people refuse free easements, we just will not get the sewers.

"If a few people would not bend over backward for sewers, they are not care for us getting much, because lack of sewers is our greatest problem," Sparks commented.

The supervisor said the requirements of the state first were to call for bids on the entire project as one big job.

"Now they are going to let us break it up and let out contracts in smaller segments and get smaller contractors to do the work. We hope that will bring the cost down."

Sparks said a target date of June 21 has been set for having most of the easements signed and returned.

"That's only two months, but it can be done."

"I have campaigned through nearly all of this township in two months, and if I can do it, certainly many of us can do it."

He said that plans are to establish two offices, one on either side of the railroad tracks that divide Mitchell.

"We hope to man these offices with Manpower (grant) employees at no cost to the township."

"They will call persons from whom we need easements and ask them to come to the nearest office and sign their easement."

"If the people won't come in, we will have a neighbor call on them and try to explain how important it is to them and their neighbors to have these sewers and how important it is for them to sign the easements free," Sparks said.

He added that Edwardsville is considering bringing sewage from some areas into the new sewers, if the Granite City secondary sewage treatment plant can offer treatment rates which would make it feasible to construct a line of that distance.

"Now that the Lardens and Canteen projects are bogged down in red tape and are dead, other areas in the program are still alive."

"It appears State Park Place will go into the Collinsville system and East Madison may go into Granite City," he related.

The state is to fund 75 per cent of the cost of the program and the remaining 25 per cent will be financed locally by bonds, repaid from user fees.

"Our priority number for a state grant went from about 385 last year to among the six selected for funding this fiscal year."

"If we get the (preliminary) job done, if the people will not sit around and talk about rumors, if they all will have the hands on we can get everything ready by December. Or, we won't get the money and we won't get the job done," Sparks predicted.

He expressed optimism that citizens will cooperate and that landowners will not get the project bogged down in court until the state funding is lost.

"We've been a heck of a lot of work—worked hard—and it's not easy to get these grants. We've been working since 1965 in this and now I think we're going to get it," he concluded.

The Eagles, Linda Ronstadt, Arto Oskanian, Peter Seeger, America, Harry Chapin, Loggins & Messina, and the Nititty Gritty Band with their new album.

A two-week residency by the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra will include six concerts.

Featured will be conductors I Walter Susskind and Gerhardt Zimmerman and violinist Minnie Fried, in addition to the special guest conductors, Henry Mancini and Peter Nero.

Programs will include an "All Beethoven Night," "An Evening of Music from The Ballet," an "All Bizet Program" featuring highlights from "Carmen" with guest soloists; and a featured performance of Walter Susskind performing Mozart's Piano Concerto No. 20.

The Erick Hawkins Dance Company will be in residence a full week, with daytime classes and workshops for children by two evening performances.

A series of four weekly chamber music programs will be presented by well-known artists from the St. Louis Symphony and the SIUE

Other program features include a national arts and crafts festival, an American director of the series, Joe Lucio of Edwardsville and "the governor's people" regarding the problem and the need for rapid action to solve it.

Antonio Brice, who will be featured in the film, "Antonia: Portrait of a Woman," will be a guest lecturer prior to the showing of the film.

Major programs will be featured at the 18-acre outdoor amphitheater with seating for 1,877 under a tent and at least 15,000 on the sloping lawn outside the tent.

Several film programs will be presented in both the University Center Meridian Hall and the Communications Building theater.

And the chamber music series will be offered at the SIUE Regional Center.

The Festival has developed a number of new admission plans, and the groups to be featured are at savings of up to 20 per cent, Ward announced.

"Many groups will be eligible for even greater savings to selected events through a federally funded audience development program," he said.

The MSP bi-state volunteer organization began selling coupon books in area communities April 1. The books offer $25 worth of redeemable coupons for $20.

Purchasers will have the advantage of buying reserved seats on a priority basis if the coupons are redeemed for tickets by May 1, Ward stated.

General mail orders will be accepted at the SIUE box office beginning May 1, and 40 bi-state ticket outlets will begin sales on June 2, the director announced.

Other new services include a food service tent which can be reserved for private catered or picnic events, and Festival assistance in arranging bus transportation, Ward said.

The River Festival was first organized in 1968 and has become the largest bi-state cultural attraction in the St. Louis area.

In six years, the Festival has drawn an attendance of approximately 900,000 to the SIUE campus.

STALIN ACCUSATIONS
On March 10, 1939, Joseph Stalin, in an address before the Communist Party Congress in Moscow, accused democracies of trying to provoke Soviet-German war.

Portell noted that this sector of Franklin Avenue has been repaired on several other occasions, including 1963 and 1972.

The newest break occurred in a different section of the sewer but very near the previous breaks, he added.

the volume of water bubbling from the ground.

A city official commented Monday night that the street collapsed a short time after the barricades were erected. "If it had let go a half-hour earlier, a street department truck and possibly several men could have gone in."

The latest sewer break brought demands from several aldermen at Monday night's Granite City Council meeting that a program be started to provide new sewers for the Namooki area, where numerous sewer breaks have been experienced.

Many of the pipes are well below the present water table, saturating and weakening the ground around them.

Lionel Portell, superintendent of streets, said the new break is the 37th experienced in the city since river flooding in this region in the spring of 1973 contributed to a rise in the water table. The city has expended nearly $2 million in the past few years to replace sewer breaks, and many of the breaks remain unrepaired.

The section of pavement which collapsed is about 10 feet by 20 feet, and it is about 10 feet down to the broken 10-inch sewer pipe.

"The pipe is under seven feet of water and will require costly dewatering around the hole before the pipe can be repaired, authorities said."

Since the break occurred between two manholes, street department crews went to work immediately to block the pipe at both ends of the breaks, using plugs in the manholes. A large amount of sand had to be removed in order to fit the plugs.

"We couldn't understand it. We just kept pumping sand and scooping more sand out, but the sand kept coming faster than we could remove it," Portell related.

"Then we discovered that an old sewer break behind a restaurant at 2220 Pontoon Road had opened up and was bringing more sand in."

"We finally got that isolated, got the plugs in the new break, and started bypass pumping of the sewage between the manholes about 10:30 Monday night."

"Sand had by then been pumped by the lift station, and it completely blocked the main line from the lift station. We had to clean it out." That work was completed Tuesday afternoon, and the lift station was returned to operation.

Portell said he plans to fill in the hole in Franklin Avenue north and leave the pipe for the bypass pumping in the center of Franklin Avenue.

Traffic will be allowed to use the street on both sides of the pipe, he said.

He said there are no immediate plans to repair the break because of the extensive dewatering necessary.

The costly operation of dewatering consists of sinking numerous wellpoints around the area of the break and pumping water out with a large pump until the water level is lowered below the break.

The cost of the dewatering has exceeded the costs of excavation and repair of the sewer breaks in other areas. Local and state-federal funds available for dewatering and repairs work have been exhausted.

Portell noted that this sector of Franklin Avenue has been repaired on several other occasions, including 1963 and 1972.

The newest break occurred in a different section of the sewer but very near the previous breaks, he added.

power steering pump fluid level and transmission fluid level. Many states, including Missouri, require annual vehicle inspections, but Illinois does not. The program is voluntary and does not require that safety repairs be made in any specific period.

Tuesday, the heads of the city departments, aldermen and Mayor Mike Sasyk met briefly to review the city's preparedness plan in case of a tornado or any natural disaster. Krakowicki is taking the current plan, updating it, and developing a procedural manual for all departments to follow.

WHEN YOU NEED A REALTOR CALL REINHARDT

went 13th and 14th streets. "I informed them that this would not sit well with the council," Nighossian related. "Like heck, we will."

Alderman Mike Sikora protested loudly. "That is the most insane suggestion I have ever heard and I think we should go on record right now strongly objecting to that silly suggestion."

Although all the aldermen agreed not to allow the streets to be closed, on the advice of the city attorney they took no formal action.

Nighossian emphasized that it was merely a suggestion and had not been formally made yet.

A letter from the Illinois Department of Transportation requesting permission to detour traffic and put up signals in West Madison, primarily on Bissell Street, while Federal Aid Route 151 is being completed, was unanimously refused on a motion by Fifth

Ward Alderman John Haynes. "Those are blacktop streets and they can't handle a lot of big, heavy trucks."

"The state wants us to foot the bill for all of this. We have better ways to spend money in our area," Haynes emphasized.

Second Ward Alderman Donald Broyles asked Mayor Mike Sasyk, "What happened to our walking policemen? Several people have been asking me."

"When the weather gets nice and the kids start roaming around, we'll continue the program," Sasyk replied.

"I think it is a good idea and our police are the best public relations we have for the city," Broyles commented.

Third Ward Alderman Ray Kozielek put in the form of a motion a request for a street light on Plum Street, between Alton and Greenwood streets. The council concurred.

Mayor Sasyk announced to the council that negotiations are nearly completed with the Update Company of Greenville to improve the downtown Madison shopping area. A contract should be ready for final approval at the next council meeting, he said.

"We have a lot of problems with vacant lot and weeds, many of which are owned by absentee landlords," Sasyk said.

"I am having a list made of owners and the location of every lot."

"We are going to try and get the consent of the owners to let the city plow the lots up and let the gardens be planted by senior citizens who want to have gardens."

"We are going to check into the ordinance also and charge land owners if the city has to cut down the high weeds like we have done in the past," the mayor said.

"I hope that by the next council meeting we can have a good report on our resurfacing and improvements along Collinsville Avenue. There is a lot of 'hassle' to get work approved with the state and federal governments."

In other action, the council approved a bake and rummage sale at the Friendship Baptist Church, 1687 Market St., May 14; a request of the Madison Junior Service club to collect for the March of Dimes on May 4; and a mutual aid agreement with the Madison County Civil Defense office.

GC drivers prominent in drag racing ranks

Granite City-based drag racing cars are expected to figure prominently in Sunday's special "top eliminator" races at St. Louis International Raceway south of Madison.

Among the cars expected to compete is the Pontiac of Ralph Hartline of Granite City which won street eliminator money Sunday by defeating Ken Wagner of Kirkwood, Mo., in the final round.

Another Granite City car appearing was the pro-stock Vega of "Fast" Freddie Shafer, who was featured in a special best-of-three match race against the Gene Lynch Pinto, driven by Jerry Haas of St. Louis.

Shafer easily won the first race with the fastest pro-stock run of the day, covering the quarter-mile in 6.96 seconds and finishing at 152.28 miles-per-hour. Shafer's car crossed the center line and was ruled the loser.

The larger engine of the Pinto — 351 cubic inches to Shafer's 231 cubic inches — piloted Haas across the finish line first in the second run in 9.14 to Shafer's 9.12.

Despite the faster time for Shafer, Haas was the first to leave the starting line and was the first to move his machine off the starting line.

Shafer tried too hard, his car leaving a fraction of a second before the green light, and he was eliminated by a red light. Lynch went through in 9.13 seconds for the victory and Shafer followed with 9.28.

Gary Bauer in the "Bauer Power" Camaro from Alton won top eliminator for the second week in a row, defeating the motorcycle of Butch Pace of Edwardsville in the final run. Thomas Barron of St. Louis won stock eliminator, with Pat Taft of St. Louis the runner-up.

A special $500 purse is being offered for top eliminator cars this Sunday. Competition also will continue in street, stock and "ET" elimination brackets as well as in all trophy classes.

"King-of-the-hill" eliminations will be conducted for class trophy winners and the ladies will be invited to compete in a special "powder puff" event.

Gates will open at 10 a.m. Sunday, with eliminations at 2 p.m.

Amateur Ice Hockey Association players, parents and officials, gathered at Croatian Home Hall Monday evening to honor the association's five division teams and players during the association's fifth annual awards banquet.

Team awards were presented to four teams which captured their division titles in the Granite City invitational tournament held at Wilson Park — Bantam, P&S Amusement, ages 13-4; Mini-squirt, Country Club Estates, ages 4-8; Pee Wee, Knowles Ford, ages 11-12; and Midgets, Lindsay Construction, ages 15-16.

Grove Plumbing of the squirt division, ages 9-10, was honored for placing second in its division of the tourney.

Three of the association's "B" hockey division tilts also were presented with awards: Squirts - Granite Sheet Metal, ages 9-10; Pee Wee - M. H. Wolfe Construction, ages 11-12; and Midgets - Running Supplies, ages 15-16. A running citation was awarded to the Ed Moore Construction Bantam team, ages 13-14.

Gus Casaker, Bill Selman

"Your performances throughout this season are ones to be treasured the rest of your lives."

Selman told the parents and players the importance of striving toward a complete ice hockey program in area high schools, such as that initiated years ago in Canada.

Other speakers included St.

A standing ovation was given to Bill Hodge, coach of the Bantam division's P and S Amusement team, which is undefeated with a 43-0 record, including four tournament championships.

"Last year at this time we had won only five or six games. "During the 1974-75 season," he related, "we met some of the finest ice hockey teams from Illinois and Missouri and beat them all."

Hodge said the squad's record was not the result of any one quality player "but, rather, the result of a high-

The P&S coach introduced his players with "these athletes had a winning season, not by brawn and muscle, but by playing good and pure ice hockey."

The champion Bantam team's captain, John Krekovich, presented a plaque to Coach Hodge as a token of the players' appreciation.

The plaque contained the names of all 16 members of P&S Amusement — Krekovich, Danny Fechte, Joe Juneau, Danny Taff, Todd McFarland, Kevin Mayer, Jim Gilliam, Ray Deien, Ben Brown, Gary Prsha, P&S goalkeeper, was cited for having assisted the team in gaining 15 shutouts during the season, including a 4-0 victory for the Florissant Valley tournament title.

P&S will next compete in a tournament April 18-19 at Thunder Bay, Canada.

The Blueliner-Ice Hockey Booster Club announced Monday that transportation to the Canadian tournament will be provided at a cost of $165 per person, which includes lodging during the two-day competition.

2 offices are still compatible—Runge

Namooki Township Supervisor Louis Whitwell received written legal opinion Tuesday from H. Carl Runge Jr., township attorney, indicating that Runge does not feel there is any conflict of interest between Whitwell's position as township supervisor and as a member of the Madison County Board. He holds both offices through election victories.

Whitwell requested the legal opinion after Attorney General William J. Scott issued an opinion that a conflict existed between the two positions in Lake County, Ill.

Runge's opinion stated, "I do not believe that at the present time there is any conflict between the two positions held by Supervisor Whitwell, and further that the Attorney General's opinion is legally in error and will be so found by the appropriate courts."

He notes in the opinion that the attorney general felt there could be a conflict because the township and county could enter into contracts for the mutual use of federal revenue sharing funds.

"The townships of Madison County have never contracted with the county in connection with these funds and therefore, there is in fact no conflict or controversy," Runge said.

He continued, "The only powers given to county boards are those contained in the statutes. Similarly, the only powers reposed in town boards are those provided by statute. 'The power to contract is not a power given by statute to the town board but rather to the electors, whose will and preference is exercised by the town board. Therefore, the town board has no independent authority to enter into contracts with the county.'"

In his opinion, Runge referred to pending legislation which would allow supervisors to serve as county board members through the end of their terms in 1977. The legislation, he said, "would effectively make this controversy moot, and I would expect action on that bill within the next 60 days, which is a much shorter period (than) the duration of any lawsuit involving this subject matter."

Dual role for school, BAC vote officials

The Granite City Board of Education met in special session Tuesday night to discuss talks which now are under way with both teachers and non-teaching personnel within the district. Pay and other aspects of working agreements are being considered.

Following an executive session on the talks, the board met in open session and approved increasing the pay for full judges in Saturday's school election from $15 each to $20 each.

The extra work and responsibility involved in tabulating votes for candidates of the Belleville Area College board as well as for the Granite City School Board were cited as the main reason for the increase.

Superintendent of Schools B. J. Davis noted that BAC will pay half the cost of the judges, and the cost to the Granite City district actually will decrease from $15 per judge to $10 per judge.

The board gave authority to the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce to use Coolidge Junior High School tonight for a pre-election school candidates' forum.

Coches Brian Wilkinson and William Ohlendorf were granted permission to attend a coaches' clinic in Louisville, Ky., April 24 to 26, with expenses paid by the district.

The board will meet in regular session at 7:30 p.m. next Tuesday, April 15, in the Board of Education Office, 20th and Adams streets.

Our Lady of Fatima marks 25th year

A total of 113 members and guests attended the festive celebration held last week in observance of the 25th anniversary of Our Lady of Fatima Circle 835, Daughters of Isabella, in the cafeteria at St. Elizabeth School.

Mrs. Marionrose Lambert, Circle 835 regent, presented past regents with a corsage of red rosebuds as each arrived and was seated at the head table.

Also receiving corsages were special visitors, Mrs. Marie Heyer of Breeze, Ill., Daughters of Isabella international regent, and Miss Janet Hagen of Alton, state regent of Illinois.

Mrs. Pauline Meszaros and Mrs. Fran Gruber greeted the arriving guests and Mrs. Martha Koszsek and Mrs. Augusta Munstermann assisted those receiving the corsages.

Mrs. Lambert extended the welcome and the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Lawrence J. Mattingly, St. Elizabeth Church pastor and circle chaplain, offered the invocation. A buffet dinner was served by Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Petri.

Past regents seated at the head table were Mrs. Vera Carey, Miss Juliana Hoedebeck, Mrs. Frances Pasek, Miss Millie Nagel, Miss Dorothy Hoedebeck, Mrs. Clara Schilling, Mrs. Peggy Crankovich. Also at the speakers' table were the Rev. James Zaumeyer, head of the pastoral services department at St. Elizabeth Hospital; Msgr. Mattingly; Mrs. Lambert and the visiting officers.

Speaking in behalf of the international organization, Mrs. Heyer addressed the group and presented a standing ovation.

She was followed by Miss Hagen, who reviewed the accomplishments and "hard work" contributed by the local chapter during its years of service.

The Rev. Zaumeyer also spoke briefly; his remarks reflecting the "human" side of the occasion.

Mrs. Vera Carey, a past regent and charter member of the Daughters of Isabella, read the names of the Circle 835 charter members.

Those introduced, who were presented a tall red rose containing a red rose included Irene Argelan, Florence Byrne, Helen De Runtz, Clara Hoedebeck, Juliana Hoedebeck, Mary Forcade, Grace Heinrich, Lucy Lucido, Mary Leahy, Catherine Michel, Augusta Munstermann, Julia Nekola, Ann Pieper, Margaret Rimarchik, Bess Stoll, Virginia Sever, Agnes Schwarzko, Elvira Thurber, Catherine Umberhine, Mary Zimmer, Lydia Dugan, Florence Ashal and Helen Oberlin.

Mrs. Anne Pare, general chairman, read a prayer of unity, which was in harmony with the theme of the program, "Unity, Friendship and Charity." All hands were joined to indicate unity during the reading.

Miss Juliana Hoedebeck, program chairman, arranged for a musical interlude by Mrs. Ann Pieper, accompanied by Mrs. Clara Judd at the piano.

The soloist sang "Lovely Lady Dressed in Blue" and then led the group in singing several other selections.

Mrs. Agnes Roderick was presented a bouquet of red rosebuds as the oldest mother present, and an elaborate perfume card was given to the youngest mother, Mrs. RoseMarie Moran.

Many other gifts were presented, including prizes won by Mrs. Eva Rice, Miss Barbara DeRuntz and Mrs. Marie Perry.

Members celebrating birthdays in April were honored with a special prayer, read by Mrs. Lambert, who also recited a poem in honor of the past regents.

Birthday honorees were Ann Oettle, Veronica Kula, Rose Smith, Ann Mokri and Juliana Hoedebeck, whose birthday was the day of the banquet and who received a bouquet of rosebuds.

As an additional salute to the honorees, Mrs. Pare and her committee sang "Good Evening

Members of the arrangement committee were Clara Judd, Ann Pieper, Juliana Hoedebeck, Rosalie Johannmeier, Vera Carey, Frances Skubish, Marge Greenwald, Catherine Michel, Margaret Rimarchik, Veronica Patrick, Martha Koszsek, Augusta Munstermann and Mary Leahy.

A profusion of roses decorated St. Elizabeth School cafeteria. Background for the main table was the Daughters of Isabella emblem, while the table's central arrangement was created with a Bible and holder from the original St. Elizabeth Church in Mitchell.

Tall white candles in bronze holders provided the illumination and garlands of greenery and rosebuds were draped over the white tablecloth.

Individual tables throughout the hall were covered in white and held red napkins, white and red placecards and centerpieces of red velvet roses. Miniature Bibles were at each place setting as favors.

Mrs. Pare, who was responsible for making the rosebud corsages and other rosebud decorations, read the concluding message—"To Be Around People," and the group adjourned to the song—"We Are the Daughters of Isabella."

Mrs. Lambert announced a diocesan meeting is scheduled at 1 p.m. Saturday at the Round Table Restaurant, Collinsville, with Mary Ann Swip, diocesan chairman, in charge.

Those planning to attend the Daughters of Isabella state convention in Chicago, May 16 to May 18, must have reservations made by May 10, the regent advised.

Punch was served by Mrs. Lambert and Mrs. Irma Manning, vice-regent, following the formal dinner.

Also among the 27 distinguished visitors present were Miss Hagen's mother from Alton; Lucille M. Krebs and Anna M. Eruegge, past regents, Precious Blood Circle, Breeze; Mary Gilley, past regent, Edwardsville circle; and Loretta Swip, past regent from Collinsville circle.

ENGAGED. Miss Gail Annette Wilmoth and Rick G. Frith, whose engagement and plans for a May 24 wedding are being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry D. Wilmoth, 2217 Illinois Ave.

Frith-Wilmoth betrothal

Mr. and Mrs. Henry D. Wilmoth, 2217 Illinois Ave., are announcing the engagement and forthcoming wedding of their daughter, Miss Gail Annette Wilmoth, to Rick G. Frith, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Frith, 2239 Missouri Ave.

Both young people are graduates of Granite City High School.

The bride-elect is employed at St. Elizabeth Hospital as a unit clerk. She also is attending a St. Louis modeling school.

Her fiancé is employed as a construction worker. Plans are being completed for a May 24 wedding at Second Baptist Church.

Jehovah's Witnesses to convene

A two-day assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses will be held Saturday and Sunday at the Belleclair Convention Center exposition hall at Fairgrounds Park, Belleville.

Elmer Zeugin, president of the Granite City congregation, said today.

Zeugin said about 2,400 representatives from 25 congregations in Illinois Circuit 7 of Jehovah's Witnesses are expected to attend.

Sessions will begin at 1:55 p.m. Saturday and will conclude at 4:30 p.m. Sunday.

Sunday's program focusing on the subject, "Stand Still and See the Salvation of Jehovah," will be presented at 2 p.m., the churchman reported.

Johnson PTA meets Monday

Jack Haug, a teacher at Frather Junior High School, will be the guest speaker Monday evening at Johnson School PTA meeting, according to Mrs. Katie Wilson, PTA president.

An executive board meeting Tuesday night at the school, Mrs. Wilson announced kindergarten registration for children planning to attend Johnson School will be held from 9 a.m. to noon and from 1 to 2:30 p.m. April 16.

Also discussed were the school picnic, set for June 3 at the Baptist grounds in Mitchell, and a monthly "koffee klatch" at 8:30 a.m. May 22 at the school.

Team One will serve refreshments at Monday's PTA meeting.

Installation of new officers will be in May. Those to serve in 1975-76 are: Mrs. Virginia Apperson, president; Mrs. Carol Locke, vice-president; Mrs. Beverly Spensman, recording secretary; Mrs. Erna Curtis, corresponding secretary and Mrs. Wilson, treasurer.

Attending the board session were Richard Brinkhoff, Jerry Smallie, Mesdames Val Novosel, Helen Schissauer, Erna Curtis, Virginia Apperson, Laura Margie Love and Pam Ann

SIUE San Tech Majors Conduct Lab Exercises Off-Campus

Students majoring in sanitation technology at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville are getting their first opportunities to become directly involved with community and industrial uses of water and air. The University's mobile testing van and members of the Water Quality class are being seen this year at water and waste treatment plants in Glen Carbon, Hastford, East Alton, Collinsville and Wood River, as well as along the Cahokia Canal.

According to Dan Cote, director of the "san tech" program in the SIUE School of Science and Technology, students in the course are conducting scheduled laboratory exercises off-campus at community and industrial facilities.

Monitoring water and air quality is just one part of the program which leads to a baccalaureate degree in sanitation technology at SIUE.

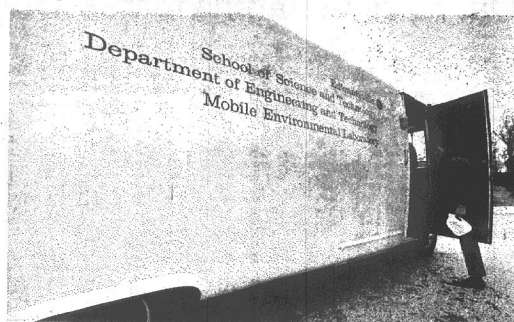

Other phases of the curriculum emphasize control of air, water and solid waste processes. Students also are introduced to environmental systems management.

SIUE graduated its first san tech majors in 1973. They are employed at such places as the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency, Missouri Clean Water Commission, Iowa Health Department, Belleville Waste Treatment Plant and various commercial facilities.

Several SIUE san tech students have part-time jobs in area treatment plants, and others have transferred to the curriculum after receiving associate degrees from community colleges in various parts of the United States.

Cote believes the opportunities to go out into the communities for actual experience in the technology will make the san tech program "even more viable." "It means a wedding of academic theory and the application of technology," he said.

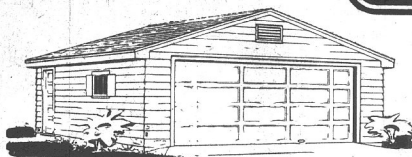

A JUG OF WATER from the Glen Carbon water treatment plant is carried aboard the mobile environmental laboratory of the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville School of Science and Technology by Dan Cote, director of the sanitation technology program at SIUE. Cote's classes in sanitation technology use the van to conduct laboratory exercises off-campus.

Hints help keep heart healthy

What beats an average of 40 million times a year, never gets a vacation and is expected to last a lifetime? The human heart! And yet, what is the leading national killer, claiming hundreds of thousands of lives annually? Heart and vessel disease.

As one physician puts it, "The time to prevent a heart attack is during all those years when, as far as you know, your heart is perfectly healthy." The following "heartening hints" from experts may not only improve your heart's working conditions, but bring other health bonuses as well.

First, is your diet helping you stay "young at heart"? Evidence indicates excess dietary fat and cholesterol may not be the only areas of concern. According to British nutrition expert John Yudkin, M.D., findings point to sugar as an important environmental factor in coronary disease in susceptible individuals.

In both animals and humans, a number of subjects on a high sugar diet have shown physiological changes associated with coronary disease, including a rise in blood fat levels. The average sugar consumption in this country is over 100 pounds a person a year.

The case for moderation in sugar intake is strengthened by findings concerning the trace element chromium. Indications are that chromium plays an essential role in sugar metabolism. In research with animals, an association has been found between chromium deficiency and elevated blood sugar levels, elevated blood cholesterol levels, and, in one study with rats, atherosclerosis. There is also evidence that chromium tends to be low in a significant number of American adults.

Though all the evidence isn't in, Henry A. Schroeder, M.D., an international authority on trace elements, suggests we're more likely to meet our chromium requirement through dietary sources and avoid further depleting our body's chromium stores if we avoid or minimize our consumption of refined white sugar and favor whole grain breads and cereals over refined white flour products. Note that white sugar contains relatively little chromium and whole grain wheat may have up to seven times as much chromium as refined white flour.

Findings also suggest that getting adequate amounts of fiber from whole grains, fruits and vegetables may have a favorable effect on blood cholesterol levels, and may also help reduce the risk of cancer of the colon and rectum and diverticular disease.

Various other nutrients have also been linked to the health of your heart. Eat a balanced diet containing adequate amounts of all essential nutrients. It's also wise to minimize your intake of greasy, fatty fried and prepared foods and skin and trim excess fat from soups, gravies and meats. Follow your physician's advice if additional measures are recommended.

Regular exercise can benefit both your waistline and your heart. It's been found that proper physical conditioning may help increase cardiac efficiency, lower blood pressure, trim off excess fat and relieve tension.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

Sizzling performances by track Warriors, Steelers

Granite City High School North and South track and field athletes performed well during the weekend in the eight-school Belleville East relay meet.

GCBS North earned fifth place with 97 points and South garnered 82 points to finish sixth in the meet. The meet ended with a first-place tie between Belleville East and West, each with 107 points.

Points were earned by combining a school's first through fifth place individual finishes, and in combined points by combining the total points of both varsity and sophomore competitors.

Barker, Flood, Woodard

and Opich, 1st; triple jump — David Kwiatkowski, Mark LaRose, Fred Clay and Tom Stevenson, 2nd; sprint medley — Mike Doner, Steve Crabb, Steve Reinelag and Larry Schleicher, 2nd.

High jump — Rick Demaree, Steve Davis, Sampson and Woodward, 3rd; long jump — Demaree, LaRose, Clay and Stevenson, 4th; mile relay — Kwiatkowski, Doner, Crabb and Schleicher, 4th; high hurdles — LaRose, Demaree, (5:37); distance medley — 440 relay — Reinelag, Stevenson, Crabb and Doner, 5th.

GCBS North sophomore point earners were: Sprint medley — Bruce Jateff, Clay, David Peters and Mike Baker, 1st (5:37); distance medley — Ebrecht, Don Lucy, Becherer and Baker, 1st; high hurdles — Jateff, David Page, Brad Gauert and Peters, 3rd; 330 in intermediate hurdles — Page, Peters and Jateff, 4th; and two mile relay — Becherer, Ebrecht, Joe Smith and Lucy, 5th.

South's sixth-place finish was headed by its distance medley team of Greg Ahlers, Jim Hall, Joe Ward and Dwayne Terry, which set a new school record with a time of 10:54.1 to capture first place.

Other varsity Warrior point earners were: two mile relay — Ahlers, Frank Holmes, Terry and Hall, 2nd; high hurdles shuttle — Scott Hilmer, Don Watson, Steve Watson and Tom Schooley, 2nd.

Paul vault — Steve and Don Watson, Ken Doty and Cliff Moran, 2nd; shot put — Tom Boyd, Doug Hartman, Kevin Kozzen, Joe Ingram 3rd; and 440 relay — Moran, James Miller, Mike Fisk, Steve Laub and Quin, 3rd.

The sophomore two-mile relay squad of Kenny Meagher, Mike Cothran, Randy Presswood and Scott Gaines placed third.

GCBS North netmen posted a 4-1 victory Wednesday over Westlin at Trenton.

Steelers results were: Singles — Dave Haldeman 6-1, 6-1, Rich Hermes 7-5, 8-6, Rodney Worthen 4-6, 5-7; doubles — Jim Harlin-Mike Haldeman 6-4, 6-4; Gary Eaker-Dave Gardette 6-3, 6-1.

Bowling rolloff

An estimated 43 area men and women bowlers will compete Saturday at Brunswick Tri-Mor Bowl, 3701 Namecki Road, in rolloff competition in which two victors will win a three-day trip to Washington, D.C., May 23, 24 and 25 to the finals of the 10th annual "bowl your way to Europe" international tournament.

North froth 2nd

GCBS North freshmen track and field athletes placed second Monday in a triangular meet held at North High, Cahokia had 88 points, North 51 and Hughes-Quinn 33.

Placing first in events for North were Mike Baker in the 880-yard run, David Page in the 120-yard hurdles over 10, and Jeff Schrenk in the pole vault.

2 launch write-in campaign

Mrs. Lillian Singer, 38 Victoria Drive, Pontoon Beach, announced this morning that she is conducting a write-in campaign against incumbent Floyd David Moss for president of the Pontoon Beach Village Board. The village election is Tuesday.

Mrs. Singer also announced Mrs. Lois Henke, 6 Violet Ave., is running with her in the write-in campaign, seeking the position of clerk.

Mrs. Singer had attempted to file a petition of candidacy for the village board presidency on the last day of filing, but the petition was rejected as being submitted after the deadline.

Mrs. Singer and Mrs. Henke will be distributing sample ballots in the village this weekend with their names written in.

Diamond defeats for Warrior nine

Granite City High School South now is 0-3 in Southwestern Conference baseball competition, 2-6 overall, after being defeated twice this week in conference games.

The Warriors bowed 5-2 to Collinsville on Monday at Wilson Park and then lost 7-3 Wednesday at Belleville East.

In Wednesday's contest, South scored all its runs in the first inning on hits by Jeff Scarborough, John Pritchard and Mark Greenwald.

Belleville had two runs in the second inning, one in the third and added four in the sixth. East collected eight hits and committed three errors while South had two errors. Warrior hurler Ray Smith went the distance on the mound.

At Wilson Park, Warrior pitcher Kirk Champion, relieved in the sixth inning by Rick Fancher, allowed Collinsville only three hits. But the Kahoks overcame a 2-0 deficit in the fifth inning with three runs and then added two in the sixth.

South scored a run in the first and another in the fourth, both on hits by Mike Gagich. Each side committed three errors in the contest.

Cancellation of this weekend's flowering crabapple tree sale was announced today by the Women's Division of the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce. All trees have been sold through advance telephone orders.

Mrs. Jo Meyer, project chairman, said newspaper items advising the public that trees could be ordered in advance of the sale "brought a wonderful response and we have sold them all."

The Women's Division sponsors the non-profit sale annually to encourage local residents to plant new trees and help beautify the community. Mrs. Meyer explained. The trees, each five-to-six-foot tall, sold for $3.50 each.

Mitchell signup session Monday

Registration for boys and girls in the Mitchell area interested in playing baseball and softball will be held Monday and Tuesday in the Mitchell school gym between 8 p.m. and 8 p.m.

The program, under sponsorship of the Mitchell Athletic Club, is open to boys ages 7-16 for baseball and girls ages 7-15 for softball.

A $5 reservation fee is due at the time of registration. More information may be obtained by contacting Myron Merz at 931-1218.

The Mitchell Athletic Club also announced that applications from Mitchell area young ladies, ages 14-18, are now being accepted from candidates for the club's 1975 little league baseball and softball team.

Merz, club president, said young ladies interested in becoming candidates should contact Mrs. Betty Waters at 931-5252 after 6 p.m., before April 18.

A. L. Eubanks dies at 64

Memorial services were held Tuesday for Allen L. Eubanks, 64, at the Harouff-Arensberg Chapel in Atchison, Kan.

Mr. Eubanks, who resided at 305 Greentree Road, Atchison, died suddenly April 6 following an apparent heart attack at his home. He was a former Granite Cityan.

Born in Fairfield, Ill., Mr. Eubanks is survived by his wife, the former Grace Weeks of Granite City; and his mother, Mrs. Lois Eubanks, of St. Louis. His father, George G. Eubanks, preceded him in death.

Also surviving are a son, George Allen of Columbus, Ohio; a daughter, Mrs. Beverly Rowe of Collinsville; two brothers, George E. Eubanks of Granite City and James O. Eubanks of St. Louis; and six grandchildren.

Mr. Eubanks was superintendent of the finishing department at General Steel Industries before moving to Atchison 10 years ago. Since that time, he has been employed as an industrial engineer with Rockwell Corp. Locomotive and Foundry Material in Atchison. He was a member of Triple Lodge 833, AF&AM (Ancient Free and Accepted Masons) of Granite City; past president of the Granite City Daybreak Optimist Club; and was involved in many civic and youth projects in the Quad-City area. Mr. Eubanks was cremated.

Dispute breaks up levee meet

A regular meeting of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District board of trustees broke up in a heated argument at East St. Louis yesterday morning, resulting in the removal from the payroll of five extra men hired as pump operators at the Madison and Venice pumping stations.

William "Mike" Ebersold, mayor of Venice and a member of the levee board, said the argument developed when East St. Louis Trustees Romel Wilcox and Charles Meyers arrested the employment of the five extra pump operators from Madison and Venice instead of hiring workers from East St. Louis.

Wilcox and Meyers insisted that East St. Louis is a "poverty area" and that the men should have been hired from there, Ebersold explained.

Russell Robinson of Granite City, the other Madison County representative on the levee board, was not present at yesterday's meeting which broke up in the dispute between the two East St. Louis trustees and Ebersold and Jack Scoville, board president. The four trustees did agree to pass the payroll, but all other matters were delayed.

As a result, a special meeting has been scheduled in the Granite City levee district office at 4 p.m. Friday. Plans also are being made to hold the May meeting in the Granite City office.

According to Ebersold, all extra pump operators were taken off the payroll after the dispute Wednesday morning, both in Madison, Venice and East St. Louis. There are no regular pump operators hired in Madison and Venice, but extra men are called when pumping operations are required because of a high river stage, Ebersold said.

The five men were hired to maintain the pumping stations for about three weeks, Ebersold said. He said they were taken off the payroll temporarily until an agreement can be reached. Several extra men also were hired in East St. Louis, although regular pump operators maintain the five pumping stations in the East St. Louis and Cahokia areas.

Vietnam youth worker in Singapore

Stephen Brown, 22, of Granite City called home this week upon being assigned to Singapore, South Vietnam.

Stephen was among the youth workers airlifted from Saigon by the Southern Baptist Foreign Mission Board due to deteriorating conditions in the South Vietnam capital. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley S. Brown, 42, Shirli Drive, said Wednesday.

Reports from South Vietnam today indicate fierce fighting is taking place between North and South Vietnamese forces in an area roughly 38 miles from Saigon.

The local young man was among the last Americans to leave Da Nang before hostile conditions forced evacuations by air to be suspended March 28. Communist troops overran the city a short time later.

"Stephen thinks he will be remaining in Singapore for the present, probably to rest up and get a new perspective," his father commented. "He must have been a moving experience in Saigon, considering everything we have heard about the situation there."

"It is possible the Mission Board officers will call a conference to re-evaluate the aid program and possibly reassign their personnel to a new area," Brown Da Nang before flight.

A 1970 graduate of Granite City High School and a May 1974 graduate of the University of Illinois, with a degree in anthropology, Stephen went to Vietnam seven months ago under the Southern Baptist's two-year career missionary program.

Since his assignment to Southeast Asia he has been working with young people at Da Nang, teaching them English, among other duties, until his enforced evacuation 10 days ago.

School, college and John Boushard, 43, Lincoln Ave.

Johnson and Rumpf have said they are running as independents. They contend that some members of the city political organization are backing Boushard and Burger.

Twelve candidates are seeking positions on the BAC board, including William L. Gushfield, Madison, and Arno V. Speman, Madison. Each candidate will be given time to make a presentation, at which the public may ask questions from the floor.

Quad-Cities on the BAC ballot are William L. Gushfield, 704 South St., Madison, and Arno V. Speman, 1060 Ruth St., Mitchell area.

Other college board candidates are Daniel J. Justus and Leo Seitz, both of Cahokia; John A. Becker of Sparta; E. J. Kane, Stephen "Buburn" and Deanna R. Wegman, all of Bellevue; Richard Schill of Waterloo; Guy T. DeChira of Carlinville; and Russell H. Klassen of Freeburg.

In all four districts, three-year board terms are to be decided.

The expanded Belleville college district includes parts of St. Clair, Madison, Washington, Monroe, Bond, Montgomery, Perry and Randolph Counties.

Areas included in BAC are Bellevue, Swansea, Millstadt, Fairview Heights, Caseyville, O'Fallon, Lebanon, Summerfield, Mascoutah, Freeburg, Smithton, Fayetteville, Floraville, St. Libary, New Athens, Marissa, Lenzburg, Dupu, East Carondelet, East Carlinville, Sangate, Columbia, Troy, St. Jacob, Marine, Cottleville, Sparta, Ellis Grove, Evansville, Tilden, St. Charles, St. Francis, Ruma, Baldwin, Hecker, Renault, Valmeyer, Mayestown, Fulls, Canteen, State Park, Maryville, Collinsville, Grant Fork, Pierson, Highland and the Quad-Cities.

Polling places here on Saturday will be as follows: Venice school district—Venice grade-high school gym, 700 Broadway, and the Eagle Park Improvement Association, Hill and Booker Streets.

Madison school system—Madison Junior High School, Third and Alton; Harris School, Third and Alton; Blair School, College and Mercedia Streets; and Dunbar School, West Third and Jackson.

Granite City school district—McKinley, Lake, Washington, Logan, Emerson, Webster, Marshall, Niedringhaus, Proband, Maryville, Wilson, Nameoki, Parkview, Mitchell, Stallings and Johnson grade schools.

Barries are the grade school zones in Granite City. Venice city limits distinguish the two city school systems. In Madison, boundaries are State Street, the alley between Fifth and Sixth Streets and the center line of Klein and Weaver Streets.

DISPLAY PUPIL'S HOME
A public open house is being held today and Friday between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. at the Granite City high school student-built home located at 2359 Clark Ave.

The home also will be open to the public Saturday from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m. The school district hopes to sell it for $29,000 or more.

James Swarnick critically ill

James Swarnick, 43, social studies and speech teacher at Grigby Junior High School, is in critical condition today in the Intensive Care Unit at St. Elizabeth Hospital, where he was taken Wednesday from school after suffering an apparent heart attack.

Swarnick reportedly told fellow teachers he had suffered chest pains Tuesday night, but reported to school Wednesday when the pains abated.

Later in the evening, he was forced to leave the classroom upon becoming ill again and was taken to the hospital by school personnel.

A teacher in the Granite City School District for many years, Swarnick was assigned to Grigby JHS when the building opened seven years ago.

Previously he taught music in elementary schools. He is among the most active teachers in the system, serving as student council adviser and drama club sponsor and coach. He also is assistant sponsor of a Collinsville Explorer post and plays an active role in the Masquers, Inc.'s theatrical productions as music director and producer.

Thurt on W. Pontoon

Seven persons were injured in a three-car accident at West Pontoon Road and Colonial Drive at 3:35 p.m. Wednesday.

Police said the auto of Diana Pickett, 1838 Spruce St., was stopped to make a left turn with the auto of Mr. Thoma McDonald, 2430 Lincoln Ave., stopped behind. A third vehicle struck the rear of the McDonald car, causing it to move into the Pickett vehicle.

The third car then left the scene. McDonald, 32, and six passengers in her car, including five children, were injured. Mrs. McDonald said her husband was released after x-rays were taken.

Passengers treated included Mrs. Carolyn Goetz, 24, of 1018 Second St., Madison, who was examined and released and William Goetz Jr., 3, of the same address, who was treated for contusions to his nose and a cut to his upper lip and was released.

Children of Mrs. McDonald who were injured were Patricia Fisher, 9, who was admitted with a headache; Marguerite Fisher, 12, who suffered an abrasion to her left knee and was released; Edith Fisher, 8, who suffered abrasions to her neck and right knee and was released; and Joyce McDonald, 5, who also was released after examination.

Police are searching for the driver of the third vehicle which drove to Route 151 and then north after the accident.

9 sentenced to prison; 2 placed on probation

Eleven men were sentenced either to prison terms or to serve probation Tuesday in connection with Quad-City area cases. The sentences were pronounced by Chief Criminal Judge John Gitchell in Madison County Circuit Court at Edwardsville.

Among those sentenced was George E. Rodenhause, 47, of the 4000 block of Kirkpatrick Homes, who pleaded guilty to voluntary manslaughter and was sentenced to serve six to 18 years in prison.

Rodenhouse fatally shot Henry Uhl, 51, of 1700 Chestnut St., in Uhl's home Dec. 16, 1974. Four men received prison terms in connection with a burglary at the Purdy Co. Venues, Oct. 4, 1974, in which more than two tons of metal were stolen.

Sentenced to serve one to four years in prison each were Joseph Lester Goolsby, 47, of Caseyville, who was found guilty by a jury of burglary, and Frances Lee King, 24, of the 900 block of Iowa Street, Madison, who pleaded guilty to burglary. Both were released on $20,000 appeal bonds.

Also pleading guilty to burglary in connection with the same case were Charles M. Lynch, 23, of the 2800 block of Stratford Lane, and Waldo L. Mathenia, 24, of the 4700 block of Kirkpatrick Homes.

Lynch and Mathenia were sentenced to serve one to three years in prison each, but were released on $10,000 appeal bonds.

Ronald Killian, 20, of the 2800 block of Birch Avenue, who pleaded guilty to a burglary charge, was sentenced to one to three years in prison.

He allegedly ran from an auto which burned after an accident at St. Clair Avenue and Maryville Road Dec. 5, 1974.

World mission series planned

The Nameoki United Presbyterian Church will sponsor a series of programs to raise the international and awareness level of worldwide mission work during April, the Rev. Don F. Pierson, pastor, announced this week.

On Sunday evening the congregation will hear Mrs. Martha Adair, who has served in both Egypt and Sudan with her husband as a missionary team.

A potluck dinner will precede Mrs. Adair's presentation, the Rev. Pierson said.

The minister reported other activities planned for this month include a women's coffee hour at 10 a.m. Wednesday, featuring Dr. and Mrs. Robert McIntire of Brazil as guest speakers.

Dr. McIntire taught in the Presbyterian Theological Seminary in Campinas before founding the Evangelical Central Audio-Visual Center, serving both South and Central America. Also among the founders of the World Association of Christian Broadcasters, recently he was a consultant for community and communications development for churches in the English-speaking Caribbean.

A father-son breakfast on Saturday, April 19 will feature the Rev. Ezekiel Kutjok, general secretary of the 6,000-member Presbyterian Church of the Sudan, which is served by 13 native pastors and a score of evangelists. The breakfast will begin at 9 a.m.

Young people will attend the "Youth in Mission Fair" at the Memorial Presbyterian Church at 7 p.m. Sunday, April 20. Displays and presentation by outstanding missionaries will be followed by a supper.

The event will be highlighted by Dr. Louis H. Evans Jr., pastor of the National Presbyterian Church of Washington D.C., who is recognized for his ability as a minister to youth and top congressional leaders, the Rev. Pierson said.

LOOT CAR TRUNK
A chain hoist and hook, capable of lifting two tons, and a pair of coveralls were stolen from the trunk of the auto of Marlon Sparks, owner of Sparks' Conoco, 19th Street and Niedringhaus Avenue, parked at the service station, it was reported at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday. The items were valued at $225.

Registration for preschool tots

The Title I Preschool registration in the Granite City public schools will be conducted during the same time as kindergarten registration. Persons living in a Title I attendance center district and having a child who is 4 years old or will be 4 years old on or before Dec. 31, 1975, may register him for the pre-kindergarten program.

Title I attendance schools, and the dates for registration are: Webster School, Monday, April 14; Logan School, Tuesday, April 15; Emerson, Marshall and in the Central Free Methodist Church, 4130 South St., at Lake Street near Route 111 in Pontoon Beach, Sunday, April 14.

The "Variations" is one of the singing choirs of Greenville College which has a strong music program. The group presents sacred and secular music for a variety of campus and off-campus events.

The coming of the "Variations" to the Central Free Methodist Church is in preparation for College Day. Greenville College is one of the related church colleges of the Central Free Methodist Church, and during the year a one day in April is set aside for taking special interest in what the colleges are doing.

All area residents are invited to attend and hear the choir, the Rev. Eugene Stevenson, the pastor, reports.

The Stevensons became the parents Tuesday of a baby girl. The girl, seven pounds, two ounces, 19 1/2 inches tall, was born at Jewish Hospital, St. Louis at 10:45 p.m.

Police alleged finding tools in the car's trunk stolen Dec. 1, from the home of A. W. Bond, 2545 Cardinal Ave. Two other young men face prosecution in connection with the case.

Larry Mathias, 22, of 1715 Benton St., was sentenced to serve two to six years in prison after pleading guilty to a charge of armed robbery.

He was charged with entering Uncle Charlie's Drive-In, 2810 Nameoki Road, Nov. 13, 1974. He gave the waitress $10 for a pizza and displayed a butcher knife when she opened the cash drawer. The waitress closed the cash drawer with the $10 inside and fled into a back room.

Benjamin Wagoner of the 1200 block of Douglas St., and Calvin Branch, of Lee Wright Homes, both of Venice, were sentenced to serve one to three years in prison after each pleaded guilty to burglary.

They were charged with entering the station wagon of Johnnie Watts, 174 Viola Jones Homes, Venice, Sept. 26, 1974, and removing several items.

Randy Carter, 19, of Lee Wright Homes, and Kevin Clay Garrett, 17, of the 1000 block of Douglas Street, both of Venice, pleaded guilty to charges of taking indecent liberties with a child and were fined and placed on probation.

They were charged with assaulting a female minor Sept. 28, 1974. Carter was sentenced to serve five years of probation and to pay a $500 fine and court costs. Garrett was sentenced to serve two years on probation and to pay a $250 fine plus court costs.

Rape charges against both Carter and Garrett were dismissed.

Transit manager resigns for $58,000 contract settlement

Mayor Paul Schulz of Granite City and Mayor Mike Sasyk of Madison were among the eight commissioners of the Bi-State Development Agency board who voted to accept an agreement by which James E. Terry, general manager of the Bi-State Transit System, resigned in return for a $58,000 lump sum payment.

One commissioner, Mrs. Jacqueline Phillips, abstained on the voting, calling the payment "excessive."

Bi-State Board Chairman John G. Brawley began seeking Terry's resignation March 19, but Terry requested about $70,000 for salary he would have received during the next two years of his contract, and about $12,000 for fringe benefits lost during that time, a total of about $82,000.

It is believed Terry proposed the $58,000 figure yesterday morning to a Bi-State attorney who presented the proposal to the board. The resignation is effective May 1.

The agreement notes "philosophical differences relative to the performance of Terry's duties," and says Terry would like to remain in the office, "but not under circumstances which would result in a continual internecine dispute between Terry and the agency to the detriment of the agency and the St. Louis community."

The commissioners said they studied records relative to Terry's administration, including Terry's out-of-town travel and personal telephone calls, before deciding to seek his resignation.

Records show that Terry has made 25 out-of-town trips to professional seminars and to Washington on business, during the past 16 months. The trips cost at least $5,500. Excessive travel by others under Terry's control also was charged.

Terry also was confronted with telephone bills for more than $223 for calls from Terry's business phone which many felt were personal. The calls were to Cleveland, Ohio, where his family resided until joining Terry in St. Louis in the sum-

Wives' Club aids Greek alien

When the Granite City Army Officers' Wives' Club heard of the plight of Miss Tula Katronis, they proved that Army wives have a big heart. They responded to a drive to raise funds for a "must" heart operation for the 24-year old citizen of Athens, Greece, who came to East St. Louis at the request of her sister to have tests at Barnes Hospital, St. Louis.

The tests determined that open heart surgery was needed to repair a large hole in Miss Katronis' heart.

She had no money to pay for the operation that could save her life, and the state of Illinois had no provisions for aliens. Dr. Clarence Weider waived his surgical fee, but other expenses loomed.

When the local Greek churches joined to start a fund drive to help her, the Army wives learned of the plan and arranged for their president, Mrs. Edwin Westmorland, to obtain the funds.

The Wives' Club was the first to get the fund rolling with its pledge of $100. It was appropriate that their gift to save a life came from proceeds of their Easter Bazaar.

Miss Katronis is now recuperating from her open heart surgery completed April 1 at the Barnes Medical Center.

The Greek churches, St. Nicholas Greek Orthodox Church, the Church of the Assumption and St. Constantine and Helen Church are accepting contributions to the Tula Katronis Fund, care of the St. Constantine and Helen Church, 6825 State Street, East St. Louis.

BOY, 16, HURT
Ray Lane, 16, of 816 State St., Madison, was treated for bruises to the right leg and pain to the knee, then released from St. Elizabeth Hospital at 7:50 p.m. Tuesday. The youth ran into a car driven by Mike Sikora, 807 Grand Ave., in the alley between Third and Fourth streets.

Vietnam aid may have exceeded limits—Price

The Department of Defense may have already exceeded its statutory limit of $700 million dollars for military aid to Vietnam in this fiscal year, Armored Services Committee Chairman Melvin Price (D-East St. Louis) announced Wednesday.

Cong. Price made his statement in releasing a report prepared for the Armed Services Committee by the Comptroller General. The report covers Department of Defense procedures for accumulating and controlling costs for aid to South Vietnam in fiscal year 1975. The report was requested by the committee on March 29, 1974.

"I was dismayed to note," Chairman Price said, "that this General Accounting Office report concludes that the Department of Defense may already have exceeded—by as much as approximately $84.5 million dollars—the Congressional aid ceiling to South Vietnam of $700 million dollars."

Most of the funds identified by GAO as possibly exceeding the ceiling resulted from the shipment of $77.5 million dollars worth of ammunition—originally pre-positioned in Thailand for delivery to Laos—to Vietnam after the Laos ceasefire in 1974.

"This ammunition," stated Chairman Price, "was paid for by Fiscal Year 1975 funds and obligated against the Laos account of the MASF (Military Assistance Service Fund) aid to South Vietnam and Laos. The crux of this matter appears to be whether these 1975 monies were obligated in such a manner as to circumvent the spirit and letter of the Congress' Fiscal Year 1975 aid ceiling to Vietnam."

The Department of Defense contends that prior to Fiscal Year 1975, there was no legal difference between that equipment in the obligated MASF pipeline programmed for Laos and that programmed for Vietnam.

Further, the Department states that there is no statutory prohibition against the redistribution of equipment in the MASF pipeline. Therefore, the Department of Defense maintains that the ammunition, already paid for and shipped to Indochina before the Congressional ceiling was applied, could be distributed legally to Vietnam when it was no longer needed in Laos, Price charged.

"This reasoning appears to me to be a narrowly legalistic view," said Mr. Price. "It smacks of an attempt to avoid the aid ceiling. I will have to hear a much more detailed presentation on this whole matter before our committee. On the face of it, the effect appears to give approximately 10 per cent more military aid to South Vietnam than the Congress appropriated."

Other increments of the questionable aid have been with credit given to the Vietnamese for the turn-in of Air Force-managed material, and helicopter parts managed by the U. S. Army, he explained.

"The GAO has taken exception," stated Chairman Price "to some of the methods used to exchange and give credit for aircraft parts returned by the Vietnamese. We are going to examine this facet of the aid program to determine whether it could also have constituted de facto excess aid."

The GAO report stated that the procedures and controls established to account for and accumulated aid to South Vietnam in Fiscal Year 1975 are generally adequate.

"We are not taking exception," to the new accounting procedures, generated by the Department to replace the old MASF system at our urging," said Chairman Price. "What we intend to find out is whether prior fiscal year funds were legally obligated, or whether these funds, especially the amount for ammunition should have been reported against the fiscal year 1975 ceiling."

Devils to be Rotary guests

The Venice Red Devil basketball team, cheerleaders and coach will be the honored guest of the Madison-Venice Rotary Club Wednesday at a noon luncheon in the Madison Recreation Center. Seventh and Lee streets, Madison. The team won the state Class A basketball championship.

John Blasingame, president of the M-V club, made the announcement at this week's meeting.

Blasingame also praised the work of Rotarians Leo Schermer, Frank Fijan and Jack Friedman for their work on the club's 50th anniversary celebration.

At the business meeting, several projects to improve the area were discussed, such as attracting medical personnel to the city, obtaining new visual-aid equipment for the schools and painting the Rotary signs.

TAKE TRACTOR BLADES
Richard Wilkinson, Rural Route One, Box 1274, Granite City, reported at 3:30 p.m. Wednesday that two tractor grader blades, valued at $800, were stolen from the rear yard of his house.

Venice town electors approve spending rise

Tax levies for the 1975-76 year were approved by Venice Township (Venice-Madison Area) electors and by the Town Board of Auditors Tuesday afternoon.

The levies match the new budget totals. The town fund budget approved was $80,652, after $2,500 was added for contingencies. The budget is $8,412 higher than last year's budget of $82,240.

The new general assistance budget was increased $2,000 for contingencies, bringing the total to $93,350, up $11,450 from last year's budget of $81,900.

The appropriation for road and bridge purposes was left at $34,495, down $1,240 from last year's $35,735 budget, and the budget for municipal retirement was left at $24,850, up $7,200 from the $17,650 appropriated last year.

Township officials were not sure when the contingency changes had been made in the town fund and general assistance budgets, but said reports released officially on the budget totals approved by the town board March 25 apparently were in error.

At that time, it was reported that the only change was $1,000 added to the town fund contingency account.

The tax levies, which match the budget totals, do not account for any surpluses or income from other sources. Christ Paschoff, supervisor, said no surpluses exist in any account and there is no income for the funds other than from taxes.

In other business, the electors and the board voted to continue the salaries of the town fund supervisor and town clerk at $18 for each day worked and the per diem for auditor was kept at $25 per meeting attended.

Paschoff was authorized by the electors to prepare the 1976-77 annual budget, which will be presented at the 1976 annual meeting.

Authorized by the electors and the board was an appropriation of $517 to the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission as the township's share of the commission's annual budget.

The electors authorized the town board to hire an attorney at a salary of $3,300 per year and the auditors later voted to continue to utilize Nick D. Vassileff as attorney. Vassileff was elected as moderator of the annual meeting.

The supervisor's and highway commissioner's annual reports were read and approved by the electors.

Gustav Quentin dies at 71

Gravestone services were held Monday afternoon at St. Matthew Cemetery, St. Louis, for Gustav R. Quentin, 71, Cape Girardeau, Mo., husband of Mrs. Nadine (Tedder) Quentin, a former Granite City resident.

He died Friday night at the Southeast Hospital in Cape Girardeau.

Mr. Quentin formerly resided in St. Louis and he and his wife moved to 1571 Grandview Place in Cape Girardeau eight years ago.

He retired from General Steel Industries after 35 years of service. Mr. Quentin was a member of Westminster Church in Cape Girardeau and Mount Moriah Masonic Lodge 40 in St. Louis.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Edward (Nancy) Schie of Cape Girardeau, and three grandchildren.

Clem Rehagen succumbs

Clem Rehagen, a retired employee of the Conalco plant, died at 12:57 p.m. Tuesday at St. Elizabeth Hospital, where he had been a patient for five days.

Mr. Rehagen resided at 53 Riviera Drive. Born in Westphalia, Mo., he moved to this area 35 years ago and was a member of St. Elizabeth Catholic Church.

Survivors include his wife,

Mrs. Margaret Sheridan Rehagen; two daughters, Mrs. Michael (Andrea) Huff of St. Louis and Miss Margaret Rehagen of Cape Girardeau; a sister, Mrs. Oscar Becker of Springfield, Mo.; two brothers, Henry Rehagen of St. Louis and Tony Rehagen of Westphalia; and one grandchild.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Murphy joins Steelabrade

James V. Murphy, general manager of the Madison steel processing division of Piper Industries, formerly Metal Services, in the Fox Industrial Center, has resigned to take the position of president of the Steelabrade Corp., 1603 Cleveland Blvd.

Steelabrade recently established a separate metal sales division and moved both the administration and sales office to Progress West in St. Louis County, with the plant remaining in Granite City.

David N. Jones, chairman of the board of Steelabrade Corp., said Murphy's contribution to the metal sales division's marketing of steel "will be substantial, and great progress is in the making for the company."

Steel imports remaining high

Steel imports reached 1,192,000 tons in February, according to new government data.

Although this was a decline from the 1,801,000 tons of foreign steel imported during January, February's imports were 44 per cent higher than during the same month of 1974.

Through the first two months of this year, steel imports totaled 2,993,000 tons, a rate of nearly 18,000,000 tons on an annual basis.

Foreign specialty steel shipments to this country remained at a high level during this period.

Imports of stainless steel in the first two months of 1975, for example, were 78.5 per cent higher than during the same period last year. Imports of alloy steels were up 57 per cent from the first two months of 1974.

The average declared value for imported steel in February was $274.07 per ton, compared with an average of $251.38 per ton in the same month of 1974. Trade deficit in steel mill products for the first two months of 1975 was $776,699,000.

THE DIAMOND MINE DISASTER

A unique, inbred type, coal miners in Illinois after the Civil War found it difficult to leave the mines because of economic and social barriers and because mining got into a man's blood. In 1881 a Chicago Tribune reporter was amazed to discover that "These laborers are the most devoted to their business of any class I ever met; and this struck me as being peculiar, as it is black and grimy enough; but they say with a peculiar accent of their own, 'Na, na, mon—we ha no wish fur any ther work, and we could na live at a' w' out our black diamonds.'"

Working under conditions and with tools only beginning to change after 500 years, the majority of miners were immigrants whose families dug coal in the "old country." They took some pride in the fact that the black diamonds they raised were a necessity of life in late 19th-century Illinois without which furnaces in locomotives, foundries, mills, and homes would die.

Working conditions varied. Although the temperatures in mine shafts were comfortable year-round, choking and explosive dust and gas, especially in the mines of the southern-most counties, presented hazards. Frequently, the miner in the shallower northern shafts worked on his knees in water. In spite of the skills and precautions of a first-class miner, carelessness, inexperienced miners, owners unwilling to construct sound and safe shafts, or capricious nature itself made violent and sudden death too common.

The disaster at the Diamond Mine at Braidwood in 1883 contained most of these elements of doom. Located on a level, marshy tract of land with no natural drainage, the mine was only 54 feet deep. For several days prior to Feb. 16, 1883, the surface had been drenched with water from a thaw and rains, standing from one to three feet deep for miles. Adjacent mines ordered miners out of the shaft, but the Diamond Mine continued to work.

At 11 a.m. the "cager" noticed an unusually large amount of water flowing to the bottom of the shaft and spread the alarm. Water had broken through on the eastern boundary and was rapidly flooding the tunnels. Down below, the roadway leading to the escapement shaft contained a dip some 15 yards in length which quickly filled with water to the ceiling; those miners unable to force their way through had no other recourse. As the water backed up against the ventilation doors used to control air currents, the "safety" doors tightly sealed the struggling miners from the escapement shaft. Sixty-nine miners died; two of them were 13 years old and two others were 14. In mining towns throughout the state, citizens who had many times heard the whistle blow "accident below" grimly understood.

A BIG STATE GOVERNMENT

By

LESTER W. BRANN, JR.
President
Illinois State
Chamber of Commerce

Sometimes it is a good idea to step back from the trees and look at the forest.

The presentation of Governor Dan Walker's new budget for the state affords us a good look at the size of state government. He has asked the General Assembly to authorize spending of $10.8 billion. That's the largest such request in the state's history and represents a 56 per cent increase over spending in the current fiscal year.

But to get some perspective on the matter and to see how large a part of our economy that government has become, some comparisons are necessary.

The latest available estimate of gross state product by the Illinois Department of Business and Economic Development is $79.6 billion in current dollars. Thus, we can see that the state government will account for more than 10 per cent of all the output of goods and services produced in the state.

Much of the state's spending is for salaries, either directly to state employees or indirectly such as school aid grants that eventually wind up as teachers' salaries.

Just how big government is in Illinois is easily seen by the fact that there are more than 709,000 government employees in the state. Local governments employ some 446,000. The federal sector accounts for nearly 150,000, and our state has 115,000 on its payrolls.

Add to this the fact that 1,174,258 people receive some form of public aid in Illinois and you begin to get a picture of how many families in Illinois, with its total population of 11 million, depend on state government for all or part of their livelihood.

This may add some stability in difficult economic times, but it does so at a considerable cost to taxpayers, with next year's state price tag amounting to $10.8 billion unless the General Assembly does some severe trimming.

Kuban's Brass at police dance

The noted Bob Kuban Brass will be featured at the annual Madison Police Unit 110 dance Friday, May 9, at 9 p.m. in the Croatian Hall, Tenth Street and Madison Avenue, Madison.

Tickets are $2.50 each, and are limited. Officer Marvin Owca, ticket chairman, reports. Tickets are available at the Madison police department or from any Madison officer.

"Our dance is open to the public and everyone will have a good time; but during the past several years we have had a sellout crowd. I want to encourage people wishing to attend to get their tickets well in advance. We don't want to disappoint anyone," Donald Bridick general chairman, commented.

Funds raised by the dance will be used to help support the activities and civic work of the group, including sponsorship of Explorer Post 104. The post's membership comes from the entire Quad-City area.

SKATE PARTY MONDAY FOR NAMEOKI PUPILS

The final skating party for students at Nameoki School will be held from 6 to 8 p.m. Monday at the Stardust Rink in Pontoon Beach. Vincent Rogier, PTA president, reported today.

A slide presentation on the Burns Institute in Cincinnati, Ohio, supported by the Shriners, will be shown at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, preceding the monthly PTA meeting. Rogier said.

DIVERSITY ON THE PRAIRIE: IMMIGRANTS IN ILLINOIS

It was the presence of the immigrants that gave much of the flavor to Illinois towns. Every railroad town might have its Maple Street, but not all had a Saengerbund or a Schuetzenfest.

Identical in the conglomerate-houses designed by builders instead of architects, city hall, saloon, slum-the cities of Illinois, individually had personality shaped by the people who lived there. Much of that personality was the same from town to town in the post-Civil War years: Calvinist moralists, Republican politicians, optimism. But interspersed in the sameness were the Amish of Arcadia, the English settlement of Albion, the German intelligence of Belleville, the Swedes of Galesburg.

Immigrants buttressed the work force that sped industrialization, the consumers who supported the economy, and the cultural diversity that lifted the state out of tedium. Without them there could have been no Second City, no Chicago the Giant-for by 1890, they totaled 77.9 percent of the city's population.

The importance of Illinois as a destination of immigrants, and the importance of that group to the state, is also clearly shown by the fact that although immigrants accounted for 20 percent of the state's population from 1890 to 1900, they made up only 15 percent of the national population in 1870 and 13 percent in 1900.

In 1890 German-born Illinoisans formed some 9 percent of the state's total population; and when Chicago's German contingent gained approval for closing all city offices in honor of the Kaiser's birthday in 1893, the Czech paper Dennik Hlasatel sardonically suggested that the Bohemians should demand the same honor for Jan Anna Commensurus Day.

Throughout downstate, communities of ethnic groups gathered in the midst of old-line settlers, and the Springfield Illinois State Journal, for example, noted a Swede theater and two German-language newspapers in Galesburg in 1871. By 1898 Joliet had become the center of the Austrian population of the country and the headquarters of the Camolan Slavonic Catholic Union.

Of the work force in Chicago in 1890, 55 percent was foreign-born. The skilled trades were dominated by the Germans and Scandinavians while the Irish found employment in plumbing, horsehoesing, rolling and packing houses and glue factories. Governor Fifer had told the General Assembly in 1889 that Illinois "offers far better opportunities for the laboring man than any other place."

Nineteenth-century boosterism continued the flow of Germans, Irish, and Scandinavians into the state; by the last decade of the century, they were joined by increasing numbers of eastern and southern Europeans: Bohemians and Austro-Hungarians, Polish, Russians, and Italians, crowding mostly into Chicago or the mining towns of downstate Illinois.

Native Illinoisans met the newcomers with ambivalent feelings. "Progress" and "growth," two bywords of the time, demanded new people to work the land and man the factories, new buyers to feed the exploding real-estate business. In 1880, the Chicago Times reported "one thousand tickets have been sent from Streator, this year, to bring immigrants from the old country."

Those who encouraged the immigrant (and hoped to exploit him), however, met a solid wall of defensive parochialism who saw the increased work force as a threat to their financial security, and the strange dress and customs of the foreigners as a threat to the sanctity of their cultural institutions. In 1870, for example, the Chinese population of Illinois was .003 percent of the state's population; 300 Belleville citizens had petitioned Congress "to take some action against Chinese Coolies." Like it or not, the immigrant stream which continued unabated until World War I added immeasurably to the character of present-day Illinois.

How Nutrition Labeling Can Help You

Though packages of some foods have provided facts on their nutritional composition for many years, most have not. During 1973, the U.S. Food and Drug Administration issued regulations for Nutrition Labeling, seeking to encourage many food manufacturers to provide such information on nutrients.

The goal is to provide nutrient information in the same form on many foods. This information can help you:

- become more aware of key nutrients needed for good nutrition and health.
- recognize the specific nutrients present in individual foods.
- compare the nutritive values and relative costs of different foods.
- select foods for the whole day that in total will supply the recommended amounts of vital nutrients.

At A&P we are including this nutrition information on many of our private label products. Look for it and start to use it.

Nameoki funds sought for State Park fire district

A request by Homer Boothman, a trustee of the State Park Fire Protection District, that Nameoki Township appropriate federal revenue sharing funds to help that fire district was heard during the annual Nameoki Township electors' meeting Tuesday night at the town hall.

Boothman noted that the township had appropriated funds last year to assist the Long Lake Fire Protection District.

He said a portion of the State Park Place area served by his department is within Nameoki Township. The remainder is in Canteen Township, which also will be asked for funds, he said.

H. Carl Runge, the Nameoki Township attorney, said Nameoki and Canteen Township officials would need to reach an agreement assuring that money from Nameoki Township would be spent only in the township.

If Canteen Township will agree, the funds could be donated, based on amounts proportionate to the population in each township's portion of the district, it was noted.

Boothman said the department needs a new fire truck, and "revenue sharing could not cover the cost of the whole truck."

No action was taken on the request, which is to be considered by the Nameoki Township Board of Auditors when it prepares the township's annual budget.

Nameoki Township Supervisor Louis Whitsett noted that $10,000 was appropriated last year to the Long Lake district for new fire hydrants and a study to determine the best locations for them.

"To this date, not one red cent has been used," he said. He inquired about the delay in the fire plug study. Fire Trustee Lloyd Miller said the study is under way, but water districts are requesting $5,000 per year.

rental on existing hydrants, an amount more than the fire district can afford.

"The fire department trucks carry enough water to handle most fires, and we feel $5,000 per year for our fire plugs is too much," Miller said.

He added that the fire protection district is meeting with the water companies in notices of today's Press-Record, also was approved. The electors authorized the Township Board of Auditors to hire a certified public accountant to audit the township books. With no other business brought before the electors, the meeting was adjourned.

12 Belleville Area College candidates

A field of 12 candidates has developed for Saturday's election in which three members will be elected to the board of trustees of Community College District 82.

The large district operates Belleville Area College and a number of smaller community educational programs.

Only one incumbent seeks re-election to a three-year term—Edward F. O'Malley of Belleville.

Quad-Cityans on the ballot are Arno V. Sponeaman of Mitchell and William L. Gushleff of Madison.

Two students at BAC are seeking election to the college board. They are Stephen P. Wilburn and Mrs. Deanna R. Wegmann, both residents of Belleville.

Another Belleville resident running for the BAC board is E. J. Kane, 32 Signal Point, a McDonnell Douglas Corp. engineer.

Cahokia residents on the ballot are Leo Seitz, a truck driver, and Mearl J. Justus, who resides at 106 W. 3rd St. and is the Cahokia chief of police.

A Collinsville man, Guy T. DeChiaro, also is a board candidate. Residing at 301 N. Wilson Heights Drive, he is a teacher at the Vocational-Technical School in Collinsville.

EDWARD O'MALLEY

Edward F. O'Malley, an incumbent member of the Belleville Area College board, is seeking re-election Saturday.

An attorney, he has practiced in St. Clair County for the past 28 years. O'Malley and his wife, Martha, are the parents of eight children. Their home address is 44 Glenview Drive, Belleville.

His wife is superintendent of the Educational Service Region, St. Clair County.

O'Malley has been a member of the BAC board of trustees for the past three years. He retired in 1969 as president of the Signal Hill Board of Education, on which he served 15 years.

A graduate of the University of Notre Dame, he received degrees there from the College of Law and College of Finance. He holds a master degree in educational administration from Southern Illinois University.

O'Malley was a military intelligence officer in the Army during World War II.

He is active in the American Legion, Belleville Rotary, YMCA, Catholic Social Service and Family Service Association of Southwestern Illinois.

A member of the St. Clair and Illinois Bar Associations, the candidate has been admitted to practice before the U. S. Supreme Court and Federal District Court.

Free assistance to the Illinois residents working on their state income tax returns will be available by telephone between 8 a.m. and 1 p.m. Saturday from the state Department of Revenue.

LEO SEITZ

Belleville Area College board candidates Saturday include Leo Seitz, 25, of 508 St. Lucy, Cahokia.

A member of Teamsters Local 600, the candidate works for Consolidated Freightways in St. Louis.

He spent two years in the armed services. After returning from Vietnam in 1971, he became a home owner in Cahokia.

Seitz is active in the American Legion, Jaycees and youth and athletic programs. He told the Press-Record, "The people of the BAC district deserve better representation for their educational tax dollar. Three-fourths of the district is outside of Belleville, and 90 per cent of the people are laborers or farmers."

"I believe I will be elected because I fit this category, which no other candidate does. I also believe I don't have to be 50 years of age and have a political machine behind me to win

MERVYN DYMALLY

California
visit area

Mervyn Dymally, lieutenant governor of California, will visit Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Wednesday, April 10.

The lieutenant governor will discuss "Blacks, the Economy and Employment." A question and answer period with audience participation will follow his speech in the Goshen Lounge of the University Center at noon.

Students, faculty, administrators and members of the community are invited to hear him speak. At 1 p.m., an open reception in his honor will be held in the Opapi Room in the Center.

Dymally is the first black to serve as California's lieutenant governor and is one of only two holding such a post nationwide. Colorado is the other state with a black lieutenant governor. Dymally was also the first black elected to the California state senate.

As the successful author of major pieces of legislation, he has been able to help expand youth programs and adoption services within California and to provide more child care centers.

He has introduced bills to speed educational reform and legislation to greatly expand women's rights.

Dymally is chairman of the State Economic Development Commission, which is responsible for all of the state's economic plans.

He served as a member of the California Advisory Commission to the U.S. Civil Rights Commission, founded the Urban Affairs Institute to provide training and schooling for students interested in government and public affairs careers, and set up student task forces to probe government problems.

Southern Illinois
editors meeting

The 150-member Southern Illinois Editorial Association, oldest newspaper organization in the state, is holding its 79th annual spring meeting today and Friday at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale.

Highlights will be Friday afternoon presentation of SIEA Better Newspaper Contest awards for 1975 and a joint SIEA-SIUC Journalism Student Association banquet that night. Tomorrow's events will be at the SIUC Student Center auditorium and ballrooms. A panel of Illinois editors met with journalism students this afternoon in Lawson Hall for a two-hour session on careers in newspaper work.

Warren W. Brandt, SIUC president, will speak at the journalism banquet and Francis C. Reidelberger, editor of the Belleville News-Democrat, will address the SIEA group at its Friday luncheon session.

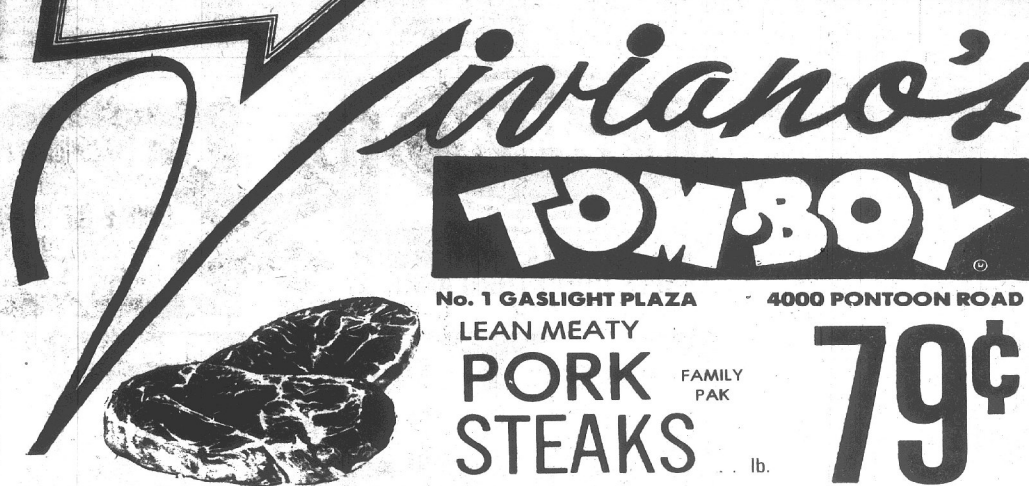

School of Journalism "Golden Era" awards to master editors and SIEA and Oldham Paisley Fund scholarships to SIUC journalism students will be presented at Friday's banquet.

Run Jacobson, St. Louis television sportscaster, will receive the Journalism Alumni of the Year award. Carl Baldwin, veteran newsmen for the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, is scheduled to receive the Arthur D. Jenkins Award. Jenkins, former Macouteah publisher and head of his own printing company there, will make the presentation to Baldwin at the SIEA luncheon.

Among speakers on the Friday SIEA program will be William Brandt, Post-Dispatch reader advocate.

Students display gymnastic skills

The Washington School student body, parents and other guests assembled in the school gymnasium last week to view fifth and sixth grade pupils demonstrate various gymnastic skills using the parallel bars, sidehorse and balance beam.

Those presenting the demonstrations were selected earlier by fellow students to compete at the special assembly.

A panel of judges, consisting of Mrs. Darla Galbreath, Mrs. Suzie Untz and Miss Sharon Bloodworth, evaluated the contestants, rating each performance on a basis of one to 10.

Winning students, their grade level and finishing position are as follows:

Balance beam—Mark Dilday, 5th grade and Helen Royer, 6th grade, first; Cheryl Krug, 5th grade, second; and Lonna Keeton, 6th, third.

Parallel bars—Ricki Taylor and Vicky Griffith, 6th grade, first place; Sherry Dilday and Glenn Black, 6th grade, second; and Scott Abbott, 5th grade and Tina Hillis, 6th grade, third.

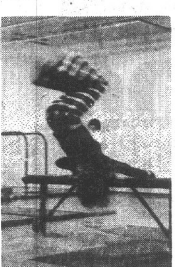

Sidehorse—Darla McKenzie and Todd Angle, 6th grade, first; David Ingram, 6th grade and Lisa Coleman, 5th grade, second; and Angela Griffith and Darren Angle, 5th grade, third.

Other pupils participating were Kevin Cook and Eddie Kimbrough, parallel bars; Eric Hankins, sidehorse; and Cynthia Rudder, Leisa Huff, Judy Schuren and Margaret Batson, balance beam.

HEAD SPRING using the side horse is demonstrated by Darla McKenzie, sixth grade pupil.

INVERTED HANG. Sherry Dilday, a sixth grade student, suspends herself upside down from the parallel bars.

ROUND OFF DISMOUNT from the balance beam is made by Lonna Keeton to conclude the presentation.

Services tonight at Gospel Mission

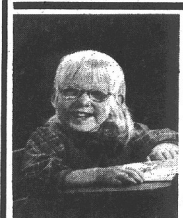

Ralph Limberg of Maryville Baptist Church will deliver the message at tonight's 7 o'clock service at the Gospel Mission, 2014 E. 20th St.

The Rev. John Pithers of the First Assembly of God Church, 24th Street and Grand Avenue, will present the sermon at Sunday's evening worship service, also beginning at 7.

Mrs. Bethel J. Davis, Mission superintendent, said a large number of worshippers were present at all three services on Easter Sunday. Mr. Limberg and the Rev. Charles Williams of the Sunshine Mission, St. Louis, were the guest speakers.

BALANCE BEAM skills, part of every gymnastics meet, are performed by Cynthia Rudder in the Washington School gym.

Retired Persons to organize band

Granite City Chapter 1340, American Association of Retired Persons, Inc., will organize a kitchen band at a meeting tonight, starting at 7 o'clock, at the Senior Citizens Center, 1920 Edison Ave.

The chapter's public relations committee made plans to form a band at an earlier meeting and discussed a May 1 trip to the Quincy dogwood festival. Cost of trip will be $10 per person.

Also reviewed were arrangements for a senior citizens parade, scheduled May 1. At the planning session were Vena Law, Lucille and Robert Allen, Helen Bertacchi, Genevieve Grady, Kathryn Smithson, Augusta Lampe, Elma Hoover and Vernice Wortman.

HOLIDAY GIFT. Jeff Parnell, six, son of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Parnell, 9 Tulip Ave., is shown with a Russell Stover Easter basket presented by the Family Thoughtfulness Center, 23 Nameoki Village. He is a Stallings School first grade pupil.

50-year events set for Sunday

The 66 members of the Macedonian-Bulgarian Ladies' Aid Society of Madison will celebrate the 50th anniversary of their club during a special memorial service at Holy Trinity Church in Madison at 11:30 a.m. Sunday.

The service will be followed by dinner, a program and dancing at the Holy Trinity Hall in Madison, beginning at 1 p.m. Sunday.

During the 50 years of the club's history, donations of money and clothing have been made to earthquake victims in Yugoslavia and Bulgaria and regular contributions have been made to the United Way, the Cancer Society, the Salvation Army, the Heart Fund and other causes.

Tomea Kirchoff is the president, Mary Andria is vice-president, Milka Kiyasheff is secretary and the treasurer is Elizabeth Malincheff. Board members are Nevenka Kacaleff, Helen Hinterser, Tasa Georgeff, Milka Vasileff, Mary Natsleff and Katherine Todoroff.

'Celebrity Auction' Friday

Lyman "Bud" Worthen, a professional auctioneer, has volunteered his services as auctioneer at the "Celebrity Auction," planned by the Granite City Area PTA Council for Friday evening at Nampeki School, Mrs. Dorothy Phelps, council president, announced today.

The auction, offering more than 27 items donated by celebrities, will begin promptly at 7 p.m. Friday. Doors will open at 6 p.m., however, to provide patrons an opportunity to inspect the articles and make their choice in advance of the sale, Mrs. Phelps advised.

Also to be featured are bazaar tables displaying handmade PTA units, also to be offered for sale.

Crocheted articles include a red, white and blue decorator pillow, a 12-inch "Grasshopper" doll, a white triangular shawl, plus yarn dolls, pot holders, baby booties, round table cover, tablecloth, cover and a long green neck scarf.

Other handicrafts featured are stuffed animal pillows, felt bean bags, pink poodle yard dog, pink velvet ribbon roses, artificial flower arrangements, felt and yarn pictures, homemade candles, beaded necklaces, decorative handkerchiefs and a ceramic cookie jar.

In addition to the celebrity items to be auctioned, local merchants and businessmen have donated new merchandise. It was learned.

Co-chairmen of the project, Mrs. Sadie Bringer and Mrs. Faye Kirgan, said sandwiches, desserts, soft drinks and coffee will be served in the school cafeteria during the event at nominal cost.

Proceeds from the project will be used to finance a newly established council program through which needy children attending local schools will be aided, Mrs. Phelps said.

'Hello Dolly' auditions

The Masquers have announced auditions for "Hello Dolly" this Saturday and Sunday. Sessions will be held in the rehearsal hall on the third floor of the BAC Minors Theater, 200 W. Main St., Collinsville. Auditions will begin at 1:30 p.m. on Saturday and at 2 p.m. and 7 p.m. on Sunday. Persons interested in major speaking and singing roles are to prepare a musical selection from "Hello Dolly." Dancers will have the opportunity to present prepared material as well as to work with the choreographer.

Male and female dancer for the chorus are a particularly pressing need for this production, a spokesman said. Chorus members need not have previous dancing experience.

Coin show, flea market Sunday

A coin show and flea market will take place from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday at the Nameoki Recreation Center, Franklin Avenue and Pontoon Road. Admission to the show is free, organizers reported. About 52 display tables are planned and 30 dealers from several states are expected to exhibit items for sale. Highlighting this month's show will be silver dollars, depression glassware, hand-made pocketbooks and a display of 500 different beverage cans.

TAKE RECORD PLAYER
A record player, valued at $60, was reported stolen from the home of Michael Tindall, 3008 E. 23rd Street, at about 1:35 a.m. Friday. Entry was believed gained through an unlocked window.

Says not hit by Warmack

Mrs. Diane Smith has denied that she was struck March 31 by Charles Gerald Warmack, 29, who was arrested by Granite City police that evening in the Kirkpatrick Homes area. An April 3 article said officers allege that he had knocked her down. Mrs. Smith disagrees that this occurred and she describes the disorderly conduct charge against Warmack as inappropriate.

Award to Assumption at 'Model United Nations'

Several Assumption High School juniors and seniors participated in a Model United Nations held at McKendree College, Lebanon, earning the best delegation award. Students from 12 area high schools gathered to represent 33 countries.

The Assumption students, who represented both Yugoslavia and Israel, received the best delegation award for their Israeli representation. Art Brock was voted the outstanding delegate and Barry Wallman received the most outstanding male delegate award.

To participate in the debates and discussions involved in such a program, students were required to possess a sound background on their topics. The knowledge of the Assumption students was gained on an individualized basis rather than as part of class instruction.

"Since it represents many extra hours of co-curricular learning on the part of the team members, the trophy is a prized possession," Jim Dohle, chairman of the Social Studies Department and the delegation's advisor, commented.

THE SECRET'S IN THE POT. Kentucky Fried Chicken franchisee Leonard Yelton of Granite City (left) has received a special sales performance award from Colonel Harland Sanders, founder of Kentucky Fried Chicken, for 11 years of service. They were attending the KFC International Franchise Convention in late March which attracted more than 2,000 people to Las Vegas, Nev. Col. Sanders displayed the pressure cooker he used to prepare his secretly seasoned chicken. Yelton served one million meals last year in five stores located in Illinois and Missouri.

Madison Ave. lights nearly ready to be synchronized

Rapid progress in completing Madison Avenue traffic improvements was pledged by Granite City Engineer Maurice Brewer during Monday night's Granite City Council meeting.

Brewer said that most arms at 20th Street and Madison Avenue are expected to arrive any day, and overhead traffic signals will be installed when they arrive. That will complete the installation of new lights there, he told aldermen.

The lights then will be synchronized so that cars traveling the speed limit will not encounter red lights along Madison Avenue once in the traffic flow pattern, he said.

The engineer explained that Bell Telephone Co. equipment will be required to synchronize the lights, "and after we get it set up, it probably will take a little adjusting to get it right."

Brewer also said improvements in the turn lanes at the Nameoki, Johnson and Fehling roads intersection are nearing completion and the contractor hopes to asphalt the new sections next week.

Alderman Frank Greenwald of the Second Ward asked Brewer to study a small area which needs "a couple of shovels full" of asphalt at 27th Street and Madison Avenue, near a bus stop. Brewer agreed to consider the problem.

Alderman Ronald Coleman of the Seventh Ward asked the city's attorneys to prepare necessary papers to repeal a parking ban in the 2100, 2200 and 2300 blocks of Waterman Avenue. The council will act on the proposed repeal after the document has been prepared.

Coleman also requested that the traffic committee study banning left turns from northbound lanes of Nameoki Road between Johnson and Pontoon roads, except where already designated and at Cottage Avenue. The traffic committee is to return with a recommendation for council consideration.

Alderman Everett Morlen of the First Ward requested that "left turn on arrow only" signs again be placed on Niedringhaus Avenue at Madison Avenue. He said the signs were removed when new traffic standards were erected and have not been replaced.

He also requested that the left turn arrow for traffic turning from Niedringhaus Avenue onto Madison Avenue be on longer during lunch periods and other times of the day.

The state controls the timing, but Brewer said such changes would be considered as the synchronizations are adjusted.

"People are starting to turn down Grand Avenue to avoid the backup for a left turn at the arrow," Morlen commented.

Mayor Schulz told the council, "Let's try to get on the ball and try to expedite the plans for the overpass or underpass as quickly as possible."

"An official of the highway department told me he was concerned about communities that are ready to be apportioned to them."

"If our plans and specifications are not available by March 1976, we are not going to get those funds," the mayor warned.

"It is important that we become united about an overpass location quickly, at least," he added. Among streets being considered are 19th and 20th Streets and Niedringhaus Avenue.

St. W. Architects and Engineers, Inc., has been hired by the city to conduct a study on the most feasible location.

Granite City already has been granted $650,000 by the state under the Federal Aid to Urban Systems program for the 1975-76 fiscal year, which ends July 1, 1976, and another $650,000 in the 1976-77 fiscal year.

A third appropriation of $600,000 to $700,000 is anticipated in the third year. The funds are contingent upon the city meeting the necessary deadlines.

"We must at least have our environmental impact statement and the plans and specifications ready for bidding, completed by next March," Mayor Schulz commented.

He added that a second public informational meeting on the proposed grade separation structure is planned for 8 p.m. Tuesday, April 29, at Prather Junior High School. The first such meeting attracted large public attendance.

Slavic Conference plans annual meet

The Slavic and East European Conference will hold its tenth annual meeting at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville April 26.

The meeting will be held in Lovejoy Library at 3:30 p.m. with a banquet in the Mississippi-Illinois rooms of the University Center at 6:45 p.m. In the afternoon, a panel discussion on the collecting and sharing of ethnic source materials will be conducted by John C. Abbott, director of Lovejoy Library, and Sandra Schoenberg, Washington University.

Other panel members will include Myron Martin, Florissant Valley Junior College; Edmund Phillips, Webster College; and John Oldani and Stanley B. Kimball, both of SIUE.

Sandra Schoenberg, Washington University, will be the dinner speaker. The topic of her speech will be "Ethnic Heritage Studies in Greater St. Louis."

The Slavic and East European Friends of SIUE is an organization formed to maintain an association of interested persons to preserve and foster Slavic and East European culture and traditions in the United States.

Dinner reservations will be $5.50 per person and must be made on or before April 22. Checks may be made payable to the SIUE Foundation. Additional information may be obtained by contacting the SIUE Foundation, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Gen. Goodpaster to speak in area

General Andrew J. Goodpaster, retired U.S. Army four-star general, a native of Granite City and one of the most highly respected generals in the post-World War II era, will be the speaker at the St. Clair County Medical Society's annual public affairs dinner on May 1.

The event, open to the public on a limited basis, will be held at Augustine's Restaurant, Belleville, and will open with a social hour at 6 p.m.

Dinner will be served at 7 p.m. and will be followed by Gen. Goodpaster's remarks, according to Dr. Mays Maxwell, Medical Society president.

Reservations may be made by phone or mail with the St. Clair County Medical Society's office at 4025 W. Main St., Belleville. The office is open from 10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Tickets are $7.50 each. The Medical Society annually sponsors the public affairs dinner as a means of acquainting the membership and the public with medical or other public issues of the day.

Dr. Wilson West is chairman of the Society's Public Affairs Committee.

Gen. Goodpaster, in his last military position before his retirement in 1974, served as Supreme Allied Commander in Europe. He was succeeded in that post and as commander of SHAPE by Gen. Alexander Haig, Presidential chief of staff.

University Women set June workshop

The Piassa Area Council, American Association of University Women (AAUW), formerly the Metro-East Council, met during the weekend at the Truesky Center (SIUE Foundation Building) on the campus of SIUE.

Plans were made for a mini-workshop to be held the last weekend in June at the SIUE University Center, with developing leadership as the workshop's principal objective.

Area branches of the AAUW will take part in the workshop program and state officers of the association will attend a special luncheon, council members were advised.

Original purpose of the council was to share and exchange ideas about AAUW and to work toward added strength in such areas as supporting public issues and participating in regional planning ventures.

Council delegates include Mary Veleff and Lillie Ann Finer of the Granite City AAUW Branch; Joann Jungers, Shirley Ackman and Lou Ann Ploia, Alton Branch; Ruby Luebber and Mildred Shomaker, Belleville; Catherine Fischer, Fairview Heights; and Sally Page, Louise Saunders and Bertha Weber, Edwardsville.

GOVERNOR WELCOMED AT A. O. SMITH. Gov. Daniel Walker (left) is welcomed Monday to the Granite City plant of the A. O. Smith Corp. by Paul H. Kelly (right), plant manager. In the background between the two men is Thomas Riley, an alderman from Edwardsville. Walker stopped briefly in Granite City to urge that the Illinois legislature pass his proposed accelerated building program. The governor held a news conference at the railroad crossing just south of the Smith plant on Illinois Route Three. He said his program would provide $13 million in road work in this region and $3 million in wages.

Patriot Day program to open series of bicentennial events

Observance of the nation's bicentennial celebration will be launched by the School of Fine Arts and Communications at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville with a Patriot's Day program Tuesday, April 15. Featuring a film, a reader's theater presentation and a cantata, the program will be the first of a series of events planned by the school in 1975-76.

The program will begin at 8:15 p.m. in the Communications Building theater, with introductory remarks by Dean Hollis L. White of the School of Fine Arts and Communications.

The film is a documentary, "Williamsburg, The Story of a Patriot." The readers' theater presentation is titled "America, an Anthology."

The cantata, "Cry for Freedom," will be presented by the SIUE Concert Chorus under the direction of Leonard Van Camp, associate professor of music.

The cantata is based on the music of William Billings (1746-1800), compiled and edited by Van Camp and presented for the first time at the Old North Church in Boston on Patriot's Day, April 15, 1974.

An art exhibit, "Three Women Artists," will be on display in the foyer of the Communications Building theater, and three other art exhibits will be presented concurrently on Patriot's Day in the University Center.

Following the bicentennial observance in the theater, a reception will be held in the foyer of the Communications Building.

According to Edwin B. Warren, professor of music and chairman of the School of Fine Arts and Communications Bicentennial Committee, the bicentennial events will continue during the summer of 1975 with three American plays to be presented.

During the 1975-76 school year, a number of musical events will be scheduled, with the series being climaxed on Sunday, July 4, 1976 by a program at the Mississippi River Festival.

"During the bicentennial year, Mass Communications will present several documentary films and programs for television and radio based on bicentennial themes."

"The department of art and design will present a series of art exhibits by American artists, and Lovejoy Library will display exhibits on American subjects in the areas of fine arts and social sciences," Prof. Warren announced.

"A bicentennial brochure, giving exact dates of each event, will be published this spring."

Other members of the planning committee include David Huntley, chairman of the department of art and design; John Rider, professor of mass communications; William Vilhauer, chairman of the department of theater and dance; and Marianne Kozlowski, fine arts librarian, Lovejoy Library.

Symposium on American Revolution

A symposium, "The American Revolution: Inevitable or Avoidable," will be sponsored Thursday, April 17, by the department of historical studies of the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville—School of Social Sciences.

The discussion is scheduled to begin at 2:30 p.m. in Room 0312 of the Peck Building.

Participants will include David T. Konig, assistant professor of history, Washington University; Charles F. Mullett, professor of history, emeritus, University of Missouri at Columbia; and Arthur H. Shaffer, chairman of the department of history, University of Missouri at St. Louis.

PARKED CAR LOOTED

A $200 citizen-band radio, clothing worth $200 and about $30 in coins were stolen from the car of William Turner, Williamsville, N. Y., parked at the Midwest Motel, Mitchell, during the weekend.

Woman student to edit Alestle

Mary Delach, Washington Park, has been named editor of the Alestle, student newspaper at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The appointment is effective in June. Miss Delach is a junior, majoring in journalism and government.

When she assumes the editorship of the paper from John Harizal of Granite City, who is completing a one-year term in the position, Miss Delach will be the second female to serve in the paper's top job; the first was Diane Baucker in 1961.

In her interview with the editor selection committee, Miss Delach said, "A campus paper must devote space not only to news and editorial comment, but also to social activity, entertainment and sports."

"Through the paper, the reader should be able to piece together a realistic picture of the university. Because of the computer nature of SIUE, efforts should also be made to include important news of surrounding communities which may affect the university."

"Like a mirror, the newspaper must reflect that which is positive about the university and that which should be improved, serving not only as the campus bulletin but as the campus conscience," she said.

The selection committee was made up of two student representatives from the Alestle, their representatives from the student senate, mass communications student, the director of student activities, a representative from the office of the president, a faculty member appointed by the vice president and provost, and the general manager of the Alestle, who is also the representative from the faculty of mass communications.

A standout stereo system is one of no-compromise quality... one that we, at CMC, can recommend without reservation. Our experts studied all the alternatives... the hundreds of possible stereo systems you can make from our wide selection of receivers, turntables, cartridges and speakers. They worked on designing a system with loads of power... a system that performs equally well in the super-low bass frequencies so important to good rock and country music... as well as the extreme high treble frequencies you find in classical and popular works. They wanted a system of exceptional quality... but without an excessive price tag... under a thousand dollars. The choice wasn't immediate... but it was unanimous. Presenting, the Standout System:

The Receiver... A KENWOOD KR-6400.

Without a doubt, this year's line of Kenwood receivers delivers more "watts-per-dollar" than any other line we've seen. The 6400, itself, has enough power to drive Cerwin-Vega speakers beyond concert performance levels... 45 watts RMS per channel (20-20,000 Hz @ 8 ohms) at no more than 0.3% distortion. Phase-Lock-Loop circuitry provides exceptional FM stereo separation with very low distortion. And the back panel allows all sorts of future flexibility... provisions for tape to tape dubbing, and connections for a 4-channel adaptor and 4-channel FM detector, for instance. The 6400 adds up to be all the receiver you'll probably ever need.

The Turntable... A Dual 1225 Automatic Turntable.

You need a turntable like the Dual to achieve the record-playing quality this system deserves. The 1225's high-torque/constant-speed motor, 6% pitch control, damped cue control, and anti-skate system are designed to do just that. Listen for yourself. We think you'll agree that the Dual reputation is well deserved.

The Cartridge... AN audio-technica AT-125

The "S" stands for its new Shibata stylus. No conventional stereo cartridge—regardless of price—can even approach its performance. Its frequency response extends clear up to 45,000 Hz, its stereo separation is audibly superior, and its hand-assembled stylus produces only 1/3 the record wear.

The Speakers... A pair of Cerwin-Vega 24's.

They're famous for high efficiency and high power handling ability. You may have heard Cerwin Vegas before in the movie sound systems for "Earthquake" and "Tommy". This home version is much better looking... in fact, one of the best-looking we sell!

The Standout System... $921.75 regular list price

CMC Price... $685 An unbeatable price for uncompromising quality.

THE CMC COMPONENT SYSTEM POLICY

30 Day Price Guarantee—If you should find identical merchandise that you can purchase at a lower price than we sold it to you, CMC will cheerfully refund the difference to you in cash within 30 days from date of purchase. All cashes must be available from another established local area merchant, be the same make and model, and be new—not a floor sample.

5 Year System Warranty—Every component system we sell has a 5 year written parts guarantee and a minimum of 2 year labor guarantee on major components including speakers and electronics.

1 Year Speaker Exchange—If for any reason within one year after the purchase of a component system from CMC, you would rather have a different speaker system, you will receive full credit of your purchase price less any cabinet or speaker exchange, toward our regular price of any equivalent or higher-priced speaker.

90 Day Exchange Privilege—Any other component in your system may be exchanged within 90 days of purchase for an equivalent or higher-priced unit. You only pay the difference, if any, and return the item in its original carton in like-new condition with your receipt of purchase.

Wilkins heads Phi Delta Kappa

Dr. George T. Wilkins Sr. of Granite City was elected president of the Gateway East Chapter of Phi Delta Kappa at a meeting held at the Lewis & Clark Restaurant during the weekend. He is a past Illinois state superintendent of public instruction.

Donald E. White, administrative assistant, Highland schools, was elected as vice-president.

William Thomas, assistant superintendent of schools, East St. Louis, was elected treasurer and Duane Weber, director of special education, Madison County Region II, was elected historian.

Supt. James A. Ringhausen of the Calhoun Community Unit District is the secretary of the Gateway East Chapter, which has a roster of 275 leading graduate students, teachers and administrators of this area.

The functions of the organization are leadership, service and research.

President Wilkins' first act was the appointment of a committee to revise bylaws. Robert D. Todoroff, a director of instrumental music in Granite City, was appointed chairman of the committee.

The other members appointed to the committee were K. B. Beasley, adult education coordinator, Belleville Area College, Supt. Gordon Dodds, Edwardsville, Martha O'Malley, regional superintendent-elect of St. Clair County Schools, and Asst. Supt. William Thomas of East St. Louis.

Hit in mouth with bottle

Jeff Allen Briggs, 18, of 1924 Johnson Road, was charged with aggravated battery, disorderly conduct and contributing to the delinquency of a minor after he and a 14-year-old boy allegedly were seen together when Stephen Noud, Rural Route One, State Aid Route 35, Granite City, was threatened and struck with a bottle early this week.

Noud said he was sitting in his car in the 3100 block of Myrtle Avenue when a youth and a boy approached, and one asked Noud for a cigarette. Noud related that he had none and said he was threatened with a bottle.

Noud said he tried to avoid trouble by driving away, but when his car started to move, a youth struck Noud's mouth with the bottle, causing cuts to the inside and outside of his bottom lip.

Police found a youth and a boy wrestling in the middle of the street nearby a short time later and Noud alleged they were the two who had been at his car.

The juvenile was released to his parents pending action by Granite City juvenile authorities.

Mideast nations plan steel self-sufficiency

Mideast oil countries are in the process of developing sizable steel industries in order to realize their individual goals of self-sufficiency in steel by 1985.

These nations are said to view a viable steel industry as essential to their industrialization plans. The ambitious programs in support of these goals are reported in the current issue of Steel Facts magazine, published by the American Iron and Steel Institute.

Presently the Mideast nations import all but a small portion of their total steel requirements. A recent calculation by the Arab Iron and Steel Union estimated demand at 31 million to 40 million tons annually by 1985, not counting Iran's substantial needs.

The Persian Gulf and North African states are in a unique position to satisfy such a demand for steel. They enjoy large currency surpluses resulting from oil revenues.

Consequently, they are undertaking ambitious development plans at home, as well as investing in other developed and developing nations.

Since the investment to build a steel mill is gigantic by general standards, governments have undertaken to act as catalysts. Joint ventures characterize the investment picture of the new steelmaking projects.

Already, Japanese, West German, British, French, American and other foreign companies are deeply involved in Middle East steel plans.

The Steel Facts article concludes: "The ability of the Mideast oil countries to invest in the industries of developed countries—and their strong potential capability of building sophisticated national industries—could catapult these infant steel industries into world recognition in the near future."

Venice students will give 'Red Riding Hood'

The third-grade class of Venice Grade School, under the direction of Mrs. Annetta Ohlendorf, physical education instructor, will present a musical version of "Little Red Riding Hood." Two performances are scheduled.

On Wednesday, April 16, at 1 p.m., the pupils will perform for interested students in the grade and high schools. On Thursday night, April 17, at 7:30, the group will entertain parents and community friends.

Admission charges are 10 cents for the matinee and no charge for the evening. However, students are to be accompanied by adults. In the title role of Little Red Riding Hood is Kim Crawford, while Cindy Freeman plays her mother, Larry McGhee is the wolf, Matthew Fichte is the play narrator, and Anthony Williams is the announcer.

Portraying trees are Eddie Salmond, Theodore Adams, Charles Fenner, Leroy Henry, and Wallace Dandridge; while the birds are Jane Beusard, Joyce Sanders, Anita Holmes, Cindy Glasper and Pam Darrell.

The rabbits are Sonya Petty, Janet Wilkinson, Tempest Williams, Towanda Matkins, Yulena Bradley, and Kimberly Sugg; and the bears are Jason McGehee, Harold Koelker, Cecil Brimmage and David Townsend.

Hunters are Dieran Arnold, Keith Owens, Eddie Hoover, Jack Young, Paul Bilbrey, Philip White, Karl Brent and Terry Hozian.

Musical numbers include "Here Comes Peter Cottontail," "When the Red, Red Robin Comes Bob, Bob, Bobbing Along," "Who's Afraid of the Big Bad Wolf" and "Zip-A-Dee-Dee-Doo-Dah," with additional background music provided by Mrs. Barbara Williams. A quotation from Joyce Kilmer's "Trees" will be used.

Mrs. Sina Reeves is the third grade teacher.

Long Congressional career possible for Paul Simon

Rep. Paul Simon of Carbondale, a veteran of the Illinois House and Senate and former lieutenant governor, has taken credit to Washington that can make him a career congressman. He formerly represented the local community in the Illinois legislature while residing in Troy.

A career congressman is precisely what he wants to be, the freshman successor to retired Rep. Ken Gray of the 8th District says.

Don Walker may have done Simon a favor when he upset him in the 1972 Democratic primary for governor.

With an Illinois legislative score of 48 Simon bills enacted and a state record of seven "best legislator" awards from the Independent Voters of Illinois, Simon had probably found his milieu in Congress.

Watching the attentive and diligent Simon on the floor and his quiet and easy manner with colleagues, observers mark him as a career congressman.

Simon, 47, dismisses press speculation back home that he's still a prospective gubernatorial nominee.

"I'm not," he says, but still leaves a distant door ajar with: "Who knows what can develop 10 years from now?"

As for moving across Capitol Hill to the upper chamber, Simon concedes that the vote-getting prowess of Sen. Charles H. Percy and Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson pretty well foreclose ambitious Illinois congressmen.

"A realistic consideration" is the way he puts it. Simon wants to stay in the House long enough "to gain a little seniority" so he can have some impact on legislation.

"There's an advantage in being in the House," he says. "A congressman's constituency is not as large as a senator's, and you have a chance to dig in and get things done."

Simon feels "perfectly comfortable" in the Downstate district Gray represented for 20 years. How does he relate himself politically in place of his longtime predecessor?

Simon believes he is "hard to categorize as a liberal or a conservative." He's liberal enough on social issues to get support from that quarter, and yet conservative enough fiscally to be endorsed by the Chicago Tribune.

Congress differs from the legislature in two respects, Simon notes. In the national body, the legislative scope is much broader and it lays great stress on committee work.

"There's also more walking back and forth," he says with a grin. Although Simon's committee assignments to Education and Labor and Post Office and Civil Service largely determine what he does on the Hill, his particular interest is the economic development of Southern Illinois.

He is pushing "the whole field of coal research, gasification and liquefaction plants."

Simon is not forgetting the men who dig the coal. He wants to define and establish an "irrefutable assumption" that — after a certain number of years working the mines — a miner must be assumed to have black lung disease and therefore entitled automatically to compensation.

Simon says he is also operating "as a one-man chamber of commerce" trying to get industry to set up plants in Southern Illinois, where there is a good labor pool and a fairly congenial climate.

He also sells the "non-urban" character of Downstate, and its relative freedom from the woes and ills of populous areas.

As for that famed bow tie known the length and breadth of Illinois, Simon says it is definitely not a clip-on. "I tie it myself."

He explains, "I had been wearing a bow tie three or four days when I first ran for public office in 1954.

"One of the newspapers identified me as the candidate with the bow tie. I haven't worn a four-in-hand in 20 years."

Freedom Train on bicentennial journey

By LESTER BELL
Press-Record
Washington Bureau

Steam will ride the rails again in Illinois, pulling 200 years of history on board the American Freedom Train.

The 25-car, bi-centennial exhibit train decked out in red, white and blue has left Wilmington, Del., on a 17,000-mile journey around the lower 48 states that is to end Dec. 31, 1976, in Miami, Fla. Upwards of 50 million Americans are expected to visit the train.

Illinois will first see the American Freedom Train this summer when it zig-zags down from Grand Rapids and Kalamazoo for a stop July 18 at Peoria and then zags up to Chicago July 24 before heading westward to Madison, Wis., and Minneapolis.

A coal-fired steam locomotive that once operated over the Reading road has been acquired to haul the freedom train on the nation's bicentennial run in the East and the Midwest.

As the magnificently groomed T-1 engine left Illinois, Va. March 28 after a press and official preview for the nation's capital, a project spokesman pointed out that the Reading 4-4-4 locomotive will not make the full national swing. Another steam engine will take over later.

"Out West, we'll run a Southern Pacific Daylighter. It's too big for the Eastern tracks."

For the 21 months the American Freedom Train is on the road, the unforgettable sound of a steam locomotive whistle will be heard across the land. As always in the past, it will stir memories of the oldsters and spin dreams for the youngsters.

The 25 cars — 12 housing displays of American history and the rest for maintenance and security of the train — are also reminders of the past.

Mostly baggage cars, which were easier to convert than coaches, they date from the '40s and '50s.

They were brought out of retirement from eight different railroads and refurbished for their historic journey to more than 78 cities.

The American Freedom Train had a forerunner sponsored by the American Heritage Foundation in 1947. That seven-car train had only three cars housing exhibits, against the bicentennial's dozen.

It ran 37,100 miles in all 48 states and welcomed 3,500,000 visitors in 16 months.

Called the "Spirit of '47," that train was pulled by a diesel engine, a breed of locomotive boasting no melodious steam whistle, but merely an unmusical horn.

Waiting to board the train of 1947 was frustrating since, it could accommodate only 640 visitors an hour. The line in New York, for example, was four abreast and 15 blocks long.

To solve this problem, the American Freedom Train has moving walkways installed the length of each exhibit car. This is calculated to move 1,800 visitors an hour during the 14-hour display day.

On the press preview, the moving walkways worked well enough, perhaps too well. They whisked visitors the length of the train in 15 to 20 minutes. Often, clusters of people would momentarily jam up in the vestibules between cars.

Since the function of a moving walkway is to move, there was no place to stop and study a particularly fascinating exhibit.

An electronic "wand" held to the car picked up commentary as the visitor glided past each booth in turn.

Some displays were so beautifully busy with light and motion, movies and slides, it was difficult to sort out the themes.

Whether a visitor absorbs much history on the $2 moving walkway trip for adults — $1 for children — the visual experience alone is worth the price.

One is not likely to forget the lifelike walking figures, their faces lighted as if summoned up for a seance.

No opposition for Venice aldermen in April 15 vote

THOMAS VOEGELE

Thomas Voegele, 34, of 217 Abbott St., currently serving as an alderman of the First Ward in Venice, is unopposed for election to a four-year term in that office next Tuesday, April 15.

He was appointed to the City Council succeeding Lloyd Patterson. The latter was named city clerk to succeed William M. Ebersold, now mayor of Venice.

Voegele attended St. Mark's School and Venice High School and is a member of St. Mark's Catholic Church.

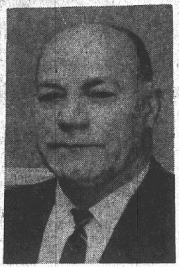

Formerly in the U. S. Air Force, he is employed as a utility man at the Conaco aluminum plant in Madison.

A native of Venice and lifelong local resident, the alderman comments that he "welcomes the opportunity to be of service to the community and will serve to the best of my ability."

He and his wife, Ruth, are the parents of Tammy, 13, Kristi, seven, and Melinda, two and a half.

HAGENS RETURN FROM TRIP TO PENSACOLA
Mrs. John Hagen, 2138 Cleveland Blvd., her son, Bill Hagen, and daughters, Ruth and Jenny, all of Granite City, have returned from a visit to Pensacola, Fla.

The local residents were guests of Chief Petty Officer Halley C. "Ted" Reed during the week's vacation.

GEORGE MANGIARACINO

Second Ward Alderman George J. Mangiaracino seeks re-election without opposition in Venice April 15.

The veteran alderman, who is 67, has served on the City Council for the past 20 years. He lives at 1310 Oriole St.

Born in Convent, La., he moved to Venice at the age of two. Formerly employed by International Shoe Co., he worked in recent years for the Illinois Department of Transportation.

A graduate of St. Mark's School, Mangiaracino is active in the Venice Social Club, the Venice City Organization and St. Mark's Catholic Church.

Jolly Twelve fete

Mrs. Ardell Lange

Mrs. Ardell Lange received birthday gifts from members of the Jolly Twelve Pinocchio Club at a meeting last week in the home of Mrs. Emma Steinberg, 2203 Edison Ave.

A noon luncheon was served by the hostess, followed by an afternoon of cards.

Those excelling at games and winning prizes were Mrs. Pauline Stephens, Mrs. Joan Barnes, the hostess, Mrs. Mabel Lehne and Mrs. Lange.

GEORGE E. LEWIS

The Venice Third Ward aldermanic candidate April 15 is an incumbent City Council member, George E. Lewis, 45, of 1126 Market St.

Lewis was appointed Jan. 8 to replace the late Louis D. Ratliff. He was the only candidate to file this spring for a four-year term in Ward Three.

Lewis and his wife, Annie Pearl, have five children.

He is employed by the Madison Housing Authority and has resided in Venice for 22 years.

OSCAR KING

Unopposed for re-election April 15 is Venice Fourth Ward alderman, Oscar King, 81, of 99 Weaver St., has served on the City Council for 20 years.

Self-employed for many years, he later worked part-time for the East Side Levee and Sanitary District. His family includes three sons and three daughters and has been active in the Church of God in Venice.

Born in Meridian, Miss., Alderman King moved to Venice 57 years ago. His memberships include American Legion Post 799 in Venice.

'Turning Point' crusade in GC

Clyde Chiles and Jim McNeil, widely-known evangelists from the Turning Point Evangelistic Association, St. Louis, will lead a "Turning Point" crusade starting Sunday at 7:30 p.m. at the Calvary Baptist Church, 3000 Washington Ave.

The crusade will continue with nightly services, all beginning at 7:30, through Sunday, April 20, the Rev. Al Slayter, Calvary Baptist pastor, announced today.

The local minister noted that Chiles preaches the gospel with "a rare blend of humor and uses everyday experiences to bring out the truths of life in Christ."

McNeil, a renowned gospel singer, will lead the music segments, the Rev. Slayter said. A singer who frequently records on the RCA label, McNeil also has made recordings with the Oak Ridge Boys, the Imperials and the London Symphony Orchestra.

"Turning Point," a televised evangelistic program featuring Chiles and McNeil, is telecast during "prime-time" hours. In addition to their television ministry, they appear on radio and televised talk shows throughout the country.

The Rev. Slayter said the public is invited to attend all services at the local church, including the current crusade program.

STEAL TAPE PLAYER
A $79 tape player and two tape recordings worth $6 were reported stolen from the auto of Benjamin Snyder, 2226 Delmar Ave., it was reported at 10 p.m. Monday. A window was broken to enter the auto, parked in the 1600 block of East 23rd Street.

NEIL SIMON PLAY FRIDAY. "Come Blow Your Horn" will be presented at 8 p.m. Friday in the Granite City High School South auditorium by North High speech and drama students. Gay Bowler, playing "Peggy Evans," massages "Buddy's (Terry Bax) think muscle" in a scene from the comedy.

'Come Blow Your Horn' to be presented Friday

The curtain will rise at 8 p.m. Friday in the Granite City High School South auditorium as North High speech and drama students present the comedy play, "Come Blow Your Horn," from the pen of Neil Simon. The play is under the direction of F. Gordon Mueller, speech and drama instructor at North.

Tickets in advance are 75 cents for students and $1 for adults; at the door, tickets will be $1 for students and $1.50 for adults.

Students in the cast are Larry Bax as Alan Baker, Terry Bax as Buddy Baker, John Kastelle as Mr. Baker, Dawn Stoyanoff as Connie Dayton, Gay Bowler as Peggy Evans and Marilyn Bradley as a visitor.

The faculty production staff includes: Mrs. Beverly Scroggins, scenery design and technical direction, Donald Atkinson sound, Robert Moske posters, Ralph Managan video filming and Mrs. Millie Chandler and Mrs. Lucille Caban, tickets and programs.

Dr. Don Michaeloff is head of the English and Speech departments at North.

Student production crews include Marilyn Bradley, assistant to the director, and Jim Mathis, stage manager, assisted by Mike Nonn and Elizabeth Doroghazi.

Andrea Miles and Becky Burke are co-chairmen of properties; sound effects chairman is Rod Hartzel; Bruce Wright and Jack Dempsey are handling spotlights.

Anita Turner and Bev Uzunoff are in charge of ticket distribution and Larry Libby is publicity chairman.

Sharon Koesterer is in charge of make-up and Randy Miles designed the program cover. Lisa Groothuis is in charge of the wardrobe and Vince Aldaz will be the house manager.

Gunman takes man's wallet

Edward Rickert, 2437 East 24th Street, was robbed of his wallet containing $60 cash at about 10:25 p.m. Monday as he prepared to enter his home after parking his auto in the garage of his home, he told authorities.

Rickert related a man, described as about 20-years-of-age, 5 feet, 9 inches tall and wearing a dark jacket, blue denim pants and a red ski mask, displayed a pistol and ordered, "Give me your money."

Rickert said he complied with the order and the man then ran away.

GARAGE LOOTED — Items valued at $120 were reported at 5:30 p.m. Monday as having been stolen from an unlocked garage at the home of Raymond Smith, 2901 Dogwood Drive. Taken were a 10-speed bicycle and a hedge trimmer.

College loans for veterans

Veterans attending college under the GI Bill who experience economic difficulties are eligible to apply for a loan up to $600 in one academic year from the Veterans Administration.

The VA has made it easier for student veterans to secure the loan by requiring only two rejections from local lenders for a guaranteed loan, instead of the previous five.

Effective date for the loan program was Jan. 1, but all eligible veterans, wives and survivors will be considered for initial loans based on the full amount of their tuition and all other costs of attendance anticipated for the entire 1974-75 academic year.

Repayment schedules do not begin until after the student completes schooling, and interest does not accrue until the required beginning date of payment. Interest is eight per cent.

The student applicant must have exhausted all efforts to obtain student loans administered by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Pontoon Lions' dance Saturday

The Pontoon Beach Lions Club will host a benefit dance starting at 8 p.m. Saturday at the Long Lake Fire Department Recreation Hall on Pontoon Road in Pontoon Beach. Music will be by "Rayven."

New Lions officers will be installed during the dance. Proceeds from the event will be used to help support Lions Club activities, including improvements at the club's park on Highway 111.

Refreshments and set-ups will be free. Tickets, costing $10 per couple, are available from members of the club and will be sold at the door.

BURGLARY ON OLIVE — Cindy Allen, 1717 Olive St., reported at 10:25 p.m. Monday that her home was entered and several items removed. Taken were a portable television, a rug, a clock-radio, a record player and assorted jewelry. No sign of forced entry was noted.

An International Festival will be held in the Communications Building Theater at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville April 19 at 7:30 p.m.

The festival is sponsored by members of the International Student Center at the university and members of the International Hospitality Program (IHP). IHP is a community volunteer program which watches over more than 200 foreign students attending SIUE.

The program will feature a style show, with international students wearing their native costumes, plus a talent show by students and a bazaar. At the bazaar, the students will display and sell arts and crafts native to their countries.

Legislation proposed to end 'malpractice' crisis

The Illinois State Medical Society this week announced development of a legislative package to alleviate the state's "malpractice" crisis.

The announcement was made by Dr. J. M. Ingalls, a Paris, Ill., surgeon, newly-elected ISMS president, at the conclusion of the society's annual meeting at Chicago. Dr. Ingalls said the society hopes to have the proposal introduced this week in the General Assembly.

"This legislative package is not intended to deny the patient's right to sue physicians who are guilty of malpractice," Dr. Ingalls said.

"Some physicians may be forced to discontinue practice because of the unavailability of professional liability insurance," Dr. Ingalls said.

"Many physicians currently are forced to order expensive tests for their patients simply to protect themselves against possible malpractice suits, thereby driving up the cost of medical care."

The major proposal in the ISMS legislative package calls for establishment of a medical liability review panel — consisting of a judge, physician and attorney — to serve as the entry point in all malpractice claims against physicians.

The panel would rule on the validity of all claims and have the authority to dismiss from the suit any defendant it believes has been named without reasonable basis.

It also would set a maximum amount of damages to be awarded for a valid claim, perhaps avoiding a costly, prolonged trial, Dr. Ingalls said.

"If either party refuses to accept the panel's settlement recommendation and subsequently takes the case to trial and loses, that party would be liable for all court costs — including attorney fees — for all parties to the litigation," he said.

Another function of the panel would be to determine the relationship of an attorney's fees to the amount of the suit. If it finds that a particular fee is unreasonable, the panel would fix the rate of compensation between the attorney and his client.

"While 33 per cent may be a reasonable contingency fee for small settlements, it would be an unnecessarily exorbitant fee on a $1 million settlement," Dr. Ingalls said.

Other bills in the ISMS legislative package would:

1. Modify the statute of limitations to prevent the filing of suits more than one year after the date the claimant discovered — or could have discovered — the injury. In no case could a suit be filed more than four years after the date of the incident.

2. Allow defendants to file counterclaims seeking damages for "abuse of the law by plaintiffs who file frivolous personal injury suits."

3. Prohibit plaintiffs from seeking a specific amount for damages, "which is often interpreted by juries as an indication of the severity of the injury." Multiple settlements for a single suit also would be eliminated.

4. Prohibit publicizing or disclosing the names of defendants in a suit until after the claim has been dismissed, settled or adjourned.

Another part of the ISMS package is a proposed amendment to the Medical Practice Act creating an independent, seven-man Medical Disciplinary Board within the Department of Registration and Education (R&E).

The board would investigate charges of unethical, illegal or incompetent practice filed against physicians.

"The board, assisted by a medical coordinator and a full-time staff of investigators, would have the power to subpoena evidence and witnesses and conduct hearings," Dr. Ingalls said.

"Upon the board's recommendation, the director of R&E could suspend or revoke a physician's license or invoke any other disciplinary action, including limiting the scope, nature or extent of his practice," the ISMS president added.

Finally, an ISMS-developed bill would establish 13 additional grounds for revocation or suspension of a physician's license, including professional or mental incompetence, abandonment of a patient, repeated acts of gross misconduct and physical illness — including deterioration through the aging process.

In other action during the ISMS meeting, the society's House of Delegates adopted a resolution advocating coverage for psychiatric illness under any current or proposed governmental health insurance programs.

Coverage should be comparable to that for any other medical illness, the delegates said. The House also declared that mental health benefits should be a mandatory option in all health insurance policies written in Illinois.

The ISMS House of Delegates also:

Directed the society to urge the American Medical Association not to give preferential support to community mental health center extension legislation. The action is aimed at insuring that psychiatric patients maintain a free choice of physicians.

Adopted a policy declaring that the package insert labeling of pharmaceutical preparations is only a guide in the clinical application of the product, and not an absolute standard limiting the practice of medicine.

Affirmed that acupuncture is a surgical procedure that should be performed only by physicians licensed to practice medicine in all of its branches and by qualified dentists.

Directed ISMS to offer utilization review and peer review to the Veterans Administration for its hospitals. The House also ordered the society to urge the American Medical Association to promote the concept of identical review standards for all hospitals.

The medical society elected Dr. Joseph H. Skom, Winnetka, as its president-elect. An interim, Dr. Skom will begin his term as president when the House meets next spring.

BURGLARY ON MARYVILLE An air conditioner and a window fan, worth a total of $300, were stolen from the home of Jeanette Morris, 4652 Maryville Road, during the weekend. A rear garage door was forced open to gain entry to the home.

Mini-workshop here on tracing family history

A mini-workshop on genealogy will be held Saturday, April 19, from 2 to 4 p.m. in the parlor of the Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, 20th Street and Delmar Avenue.

Among the leaders of the workshop will be two St. Louisians, Mrs. Dorothy Griffith and Mrs. Ruth Seibel, members of the St. Louis Genealogical Society.

They will be assisted by Mrs. Emma Schoen and Mrs. Helen Gantcheff, local members of the Society. Additional Society members also are expected to be in attendance.

The St. Louis Genealogical Society — through its contributions to persons interested in tracing ancestor lineages and past history — has been designated as a group authorized to use the insignia of the U. S. Bicentennial Commission.

The mini-workshop is open to anyone interested in learning the techniques of tracing a family history, and there is no admission charge.

The Daughters of the American Revolution is sponsoring the afternoon session as a public service to the local area.

Additional information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Schoen at 931-1248 or Mrs. Gantcheff at 876-0521.

State spending bulge reducing investments

Increased state expenditures have forced the Illinois State Treasurer's Office to reduce its April 1 state investments in Illinois banks by $10 million from a year ago, State Treasurer Alan J. Dixon said Wednesday.

In a news conference at the State Capitol, Dixon said, "The State of Illinois is in a very difficult financial position."

"It presently appears that state investments in Illinois banks will drop another $271 million—or almost 75 per cent—when bids are opened for the next award of State funds Sept. 1."

"In plain, simple language, the situation on state investments will get much worse before it starts to get better," Dixon said. "The state's reserves are rapidly declining. As a fiscal conservative, I am concerned about our financial position."

On April 1 a year ago, Dixon's office invested $481 million in interest-bearing accounts with banks in every county of the state. This year, that $481 million figure had to be reduced to $261 million.

Dixon said his fiscal staff projects that he will be forced to reduce the Sept. 1 allocation from $371 million to $100 million.

"This April and September decline—in addition to severely damaging the state's revenue position—also will affect the economy in almost every community in Illinois," he commented.

Dixon's office earned more than $300 million on interest with investment of state funds during his first term—91.5 per cent more than any of his predecessors.

Until this year, Dixon's investment program was the fifth largest revenue producer for the state—providing more money, for instance, than the liquor tax, the inheritance tax, horse-racing taxes, the insurance tax, the corporate franchise tax, and the hotel-motel tax.

The state investment program is Illinois' largest non-tax source for the General Revenue Fund.

Dixon said he has sent a letter to every bank in Illinois explaining the state's "bleak financial outlook," and expressing "genuine concern about Illinois' future fiscal position."

Birthday party honors sisters

Cindy Rigby, 7, and her sister, Kellie Rigby, 4, celebrated their birthdays at a dual party given during the weekend by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Denis Rigby, 2704 Cayuga Ave.

During the afternoon games were played and several prizes were awarded. The hosts also served ice cream and cake to the guests.

Those present were Kim, Brian and Jennie Pritchett, Robin and Beth Summers, Donnetta and Jeanetta Teachnor, Della Corbitt, Kelly Cook and Ken and Kris Cook.

GLENN HASHEIDERS

NAME SON JOSEPH Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hasheider, 2432 St. Clair Ave., have selected the name Joseph Glenn for their son, who was born April 7 at St. John's Mercy Hospital, St. Louis.

The infant weighed five pounds, 14 ounces. He has a 2-year-old sister, Vicki Lee.

Mrs. Hasheider is the former Joyce Kearbey. The maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Morelan, reside in Granite City. The paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Hasheider, live in St. Louis.

Great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Otis E. Gossell of Fairdeal, Mo.

6 seeking 2 Venice School Board posts

With two Venice School Board positions to be decided in public voting Saturday, the field of six candidates includes two residents of the Eagle Park area, Miss Annie Mosby and Eddie Lee Salmond.

Photographs of the two candidates were not available for inclusion with their biographies.

Miss Mosby, 21, resides at 2154 Terry St. She is a sophomore student at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

A Venice High School graduate, she resides at the Terry address with her parents. The candidate seeks to expand representation on the board for young adults.

She is active in the Canaan Galilee Baptist Church.

Salmond, 34, lives at 93 Hill St. A former special deputy sheriff, he is self-employed as a scrap iron dealer.

He and his wife, Alvestra, have a daughter, Towanda, who is a fourth grade Venice student, and a son, Eddie Jr., a third grader.

Salmond has been active in such groups as the Eagle Park Improvement Association. He is a veteran of service in the armed forces.

Chapter honors Mrs. Houseman

"Green Cap" activities honoring Mrs. Margaret Houseman were held this week at the Granite City Moose Lodge, 19th and Adams streets, and a luncheon was served by Mrs. Pat Allison.

The event was planned at a business session held earlier by Women of the Moose, Chapter 247. Mrs. Nancy Hamilton, senior regent, presided and three new members, Mrs. Dee Bryson, Mrs. Opal Harlan and Mrs. Rosalie Portell, were enrolled.

Mrs. Helen Davis, recorder, read a letter from the National Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, thanking the chapter for its assistance. The project was directed locally by Mrs. Dorothy Pulley, Mrs. Velma Finney and Mrs. Jean Teller.

After the business meeting, refreshments were served to 37 members by Mrs. Marian Lipscomb and Mrs. Allison. Those observing birthdays during the past two months were honored.

Prizes were awarded to Mesdames Hamilton, Dorothy Daugherty, Mildred Votupal, Verna Pape, Nellie Shane and Donna Westbrook.

JOHN BOUSHARD

CHARLES BURGER

WILLIE C. JOHNSON

FRED W. RUMPF

A candidate for the Venice Board of Education on Saturday's balloting is John C. Boushard, 34, of 433 Lincoln Ave., who pledges to "do my best for all the children of the district to bring the highest class of education for the least amount of tax money."

"I am happily married to Bernice, who is the mother of my three girls and two boys," Boushard told the Press-Record.

"Tami, 14, is a freshman at Venice High School. Linda, 10, is in the fifth grade and Jane Ann, eight, is in the third grade. John Jr., four years old, is a pre-schooler at Venice Grade School. Jeff, two, is still at home."

"I have lived in Venice my entire life and am a member of the First Baptist Church of Venice," Boushard relates.

"I have been employed by Granite City Steel since 1968 and am a member of United Steelworker Local 30."

"Since I have children attending the Venice public schools, and since I am a taxpayer, I feel I should take a special interest in the type of education Venice children are getting, and also the way tax money is spent."

"I feel that some of the problems which I could help overcome as a board member are the poor communications between the school district and the parents."

Candidates for the Venice Board of Education on Saturday include Charles W. Burger, 1034 Third St.

"The candidate told the Press-Record, 'I am 34 years old and married to Donna (Hawkins) Burger and we have one daughter, Stephanie."

"I served in the U.S. Army for 12 years—three years' duty in Vietnam, two years in Germany, two years in the Panama Canal Zone, one year in Korea and the remaining four years in the United States at various technical schools."

Burger continues, "I have lived in Venice for nine years and am a member of the Venice Fire Department. I am fire marshal of the City of Venice, and a qualified emergency medical technician."

"I belong to the Venice First Baptist Church and have been employed at Amtrak for the last eight years in St. Louis."

"I have one daughter who will be attending the Venice Public Schools, and I own a home at 1034 Third."

"My intention is to run for the School Board and bring back communications between the school and the people of Venice who are paying the taxes to help run our school."

"If elected, I will try to the best of my ability to avoid any tax raise unless deemed absolutely necessary. I am asking citizens to be sure and vote, even if they don't vote for me. We want this election to be the people's choice."

One of two incumbents seeking re-election to the Venice School Board on Saturday is Willie C. "Bill" Johnson, 45, of 500 Third St., a member of the board for the past six years.

Born in Camden, Tenn., he has been a Venice resident 25 years, most of that time as a data processing assistant supervisor of the St. Louis United Way.

He is active in Aired Temple, Masonic Lodge 877 and the Aired Shrine Compacts.

Johnson attended Puryear grade and high schools in Tennessee and the Toler Business College at Paris, Tenn. He served in the Air Force and is a Baptist.

He is married and the father of three children.

Mrs. Broeker dies at 66

Mrs. Irene I. Broeker, 66, of 2533 State St., a 38-year resident of Granite City, died at 8:25 a.m. Tuesday at Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis.

She was born in Pershing, Mo., and was a member of the Zion Evangelical Church in Pershing.

Her husband, Charles Broeker, died in 1962.

Survivors include a son, Charles Broeker of Hazelwood, Mo.; two sisters, Mrs. Minnie Harmon of Claiborne, Mo., and Mrs. Ella Begeman of Herman, Mo.; two grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Fred W. Rumpf, 48, of 620 Washington Ave., seeks re-election Saturday to the School Board of Venice Community Unit District Three.

Appointed to the board in October 1965 to complete an unexpired term, Rumpf was elected to three-year terms in 1966, 1969 and 1972.

A lifelong resident of the Quad-City area, he attended Venice public schools and graduated from Venice High School. He also attended Southern Illinois University at Carbondale.

His principal employment has been as a cement mason. He is a Methodist, and his affiliations have included the Venice Lions, Venice City Organization, American Legion Post 307, Moose, Eagles, Crippled Children's Organization and committee of Boy Scout Troop One.

Rollettes meet at Jackson home

Mrs. Sharon Jackson, 2554 Ivy Lane, entertained the Rollettes Club Monday night. Introduced was a new member, Mrs. Wilda Riedle.

Those winning prizes at games were Mrs. Helen Warfield, Mrs. Betty Brooks and Mrs. Edith Wofford.

The hostess served a dessert luncheon to those named and to Mesdames Connie Tinsley, Diane Wilson, Joyce Waller, Mary Ann Buttos, Jeanette Wilson, Reata Radefeld and a guest, Margaret Graham.

Mrs. Warfield invited the club to meet in her home at St. Jacob, Ill., in May.

Miss Beverly Ann Gray and David T. Scaturro exchanged wedding vows in a double ring ceremony at 4:30 p.m., March 8, at St. Mark's Roman Catholic Church in Venice.

The Rev. John O'Connell officiated at the service. Nuptial selections included "A Time For Us," "Sunrise, Sunset," "Ave Maria," "Wedding Song," "Mother at Thy Feet I'm Kneeling" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Gray, 4813 Warnock Ave. Parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Scaturro, reside at 808 Third St., Venice.

For her wedding, the former Miss Gray wore a full length gown of candlelight ivory tulle, and a mantilla veil bordered with wide scallops of imported Chantilly lace.

The molded bodice featured a high lace collar etched with seed pearls and sequins. The full bishop sleeves were accented with matching lace and a decorative lace border encircled the A-line skirt, extending along the chapel length train.

She carried a bouquet of American beauty roses and baby's breath.

The maid of honor was Miss Toni Stout. Serving as bridesmaids were Miss Mary Beth Scaturro, a sister of the groom, Miss Jerri Gray, the bride's cousin, and Mrs. Debra Mathenia.

They were gowned in identical floor length dresses of jade green crepe, made in halter style and worn with long sleeved hooded jackets.

Each attendant held three long stem yellow roses, accented with baby breath.

The flower girl, Rita Catherine Smoot, a cousin of the bride, wore a frock similar to the bridesmaid's dresses and carried a basket of yellow rosebuds.

Thomas Scaturro, the groom's cousin, was the ringbearer. John Winsfield attended the groom as best man. Leonard Scaturro, a brother of the groom, Michel Lasiter, Tony Gray, the bride's brother, Billy Scaturro, a cousin of the groom, and Tom Phillips completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

A reception was held in the Croatian Home, Madison, after the wedding. The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents.

A graduate of Granite City High School, the bride now attends Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, where she is a student nurse. She also works at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

The groom was graduated from Venice High School and attended SIUE. He is employed at the Do It Yourself Home Center.

Competition Saturday for GC, Venice education boards

Annual voting on school board candidates is scheduled in the Quad-City area on Saturday. All eligible voters are urged to participate; the caliber of education is important to each community, and the school systems spend well over half of all local property taxes.

Two three-year board terms are to be filled in each of the three public school districts.

There is no opposition in Madison District No. 12 for two incumbent board members, Willie Walker and David Miskelley.

In Granite City District No. 9, one of the present board members, Arthur L. "Pete" Metcalf, did not file for re-election.

All three candidates for the two posts appear capable of serving effectively. We lean toward L. Monroe Worthen, an accountant, and Thomas G. Miosky, director of learning achievement centers in the Collinsville school system.

At 41, Worthen has an unusual volume of experience on the Board of Education, having served continuously for the last 15 years. Currently the non-salaried treasurer of the district, he is a past board president. He advocates reduction of the administrative staff size in view of enrollment and economic trends,

Gushleff, O'Malley, Justus favored for college board

Quad-Cityans will vote for the first time Saturday on members of the Board of Trustees of Belleville Area College, known formally as Community College District No. 522.

Under laws and policies of the General Assembly and the Illinois Community College Board, many multiple-county districts have been created to provide junior college (freshman and sophomore) instruction. BAC is among the largest.

Although its current boundaries are relatively new, the Belleville College has a long and respected history. It is noted for economy and efficiency as well as for academic excellence.

While much of the credit goes to longtime President H. J. Haberaecker and his successor, Dr. William R. Keel, considerable credit also is due the seven-member college board that has set BAC policies.

Aware that populous areas added to the district need direct representation, two of the three incumbent trustees did not seek re-election this spring. The third, Edward F.

O'Malley of Belleville, is a candidate and can help provide continuity if elected a second three-year term.

Our other suggestions are William L. Gushleff of Madison and Cahokia Police Chief Mearl J. Justus. There are 12 candidates on the ballot; O'Malley is listed first, Justus second and Gushleff sixth.

Arno V. Sponteman of Mitchell also could serve well, but the likelihood of achieving a board post for the Quad-City area might be improved considerably if this community concentrated on one local resident, Gushleff, and his two unofficial running mates; there is expected to also be much support for the trio in Belleville and Cahokia as well as other portions of the district.

A Belleville West High School teacher, Gushleff has extensive knowledge of BAC as well as this community, and also is well-versed in educational philosophy and goals. He favors a satellite campus here if it becomes financially feasible. The candidate also advocates expansion of BAC's highly-regarded nursing program and police academy.

Schools need budgeting priorities

To the Editor:

I feel that I owe the many friends who have supported me over the past approximately eight years as a member of the Board of Education of Community Unit District No. 9, an explanation of why I did not choose to run.

First, I want to thank them so very, very much. For without their support, I could not have been elected.

I also desire to thank the many, many friends who signed my petitions for this upcoming election. I did have all necessary forms completed, notarized, etc., and ready for filing when I made my decision not to file.

I am confident that with their support this year, as well as in the past, I would have been re-elected to the board. It is with regret that I am stepping down from this position.

For approximately six and one-half years I thoroughly enjoyed being a member of the Board of Education, for there was complete harmony among the members and the administrators as well.

Of course, there were differences of opinion, and this must be, to have a "healthy" board.

However, in the past year or so there has been an "atmosphere" that has slowly crept into some of the board members that has resulted in a feeling of "tension" among the board members.

This is another reason that I chose not to run.

Another great concern of mine is the tax dollar. It is a known fact that 45 cents of every tax dollar is slated for the school system.

Now, I definitely am not saying that the tax monies have not been spent wisely in the past.

because he was fired, but because he, himself, resigned—as the records will show at the City Hall in Madison. He was not fired, as some gossip might like for everyone to believe.

To each Third Ward voter, if you know Ron as a police officer, you would have known he was one of the best. We don't have to say it alone, because at his home he has many clippings.

He has at least eleven letters of commendation from various police departments around the area to prove who kind of a police officer he was.

Ron talked it over with his family and finally decided to forgo the assistant to the Cook County clerk, insists that it's not political patronage.

It's not patronage in the sense we are suggesting, but it's burst out. "We did not go to the General Assembly and say, 'Give us people.'"

"People are coming to us." But secreted away in locked files are carefully made lists showing each employee, his monthly salary and his benefactor among the four board members.

Also, very close tabs can be kept on how much of the election board pie belongs to members William Harris, or Adams, or Lavelle, or Franklin Lunding.

For example, the latest list shows Democrat Harris with $1,000 worth of employment, Republican Lunding with $1,574 worth (in terms of monthly payroll). Each has sound, according to the tabulations, 11 employees — not counting the 26 field employees called election coordinators.

One of Lunding's "protégés," however, was actually sponsored by Lavelle — staffers insist he's really a Republican.

For an agency Lavelle says is an example of political patronage, the party affiliation of employees seems of great concern.

It also really matters to the agency staff who the election coordinators are and where they come from. Lavelle says the persons were chosen through newspaper ads and went through a three-part screening process. Many people regard them as more patronage workers.

Coordinators earn $14,000 a year, work out of their homes and are supposed to keep in contact with local election officials in the 1,600 election jurisdictions in Illinois.

The board is also a great employment opportunity for lawyers. In addition to the ones under contract, 27 attorneys were hired for two days during the Nov. 5 election and another 20 for the Feb. 25 primaries. Each board member was given the opportunity to recommend names.

Adams said two attorneys he recommended were hired. Harris accounts for three, and apparently the remaining 22 in November got their assignments through the two Chicago lawyers, Lavelle and Lunding.

The attorneys were paid $175 for an afternoon of training the day before election and $250 if they worked all day. That day they consisted of accompanying election coordinators on inspection visits to polling places.

Two people who worked in November, one earning $250 and another $200, according to Michael Levinson, the board's general counsel.

Another man — not an attorney — was hired because "we needed somebody to stay with the car," according to Levinson.

The man, Jack Weitz, helped a coordinator attorney team cover a large district, he said, and was paid $175 for training and election day pay. Levinson said he thought Weitz was an insurance agent.

I am sure this feeling of the tension has been and is being felt by our administrators to a degree.

Again, this is not the best type of situation for any of our administrators to be working under.

It has always been my feeling that any board member should not run the district, but see to it that the professional people — better known as administrators — run the school system in accordance with Illinois state statutes governing the School Code and board policies as set down by the Board of Education.

These professional people are trained for this and it is their definite responsibility. Others who desire so many administrators?

Another point is that I wonder if it is wise for any member to stay on the board long, for sometimes new and qualified members can add new ideas that could possibly instill new incentives for the board to continue to move ahead for the welfare of our children and the adults of this community.

This is another reason that I chose not to run.

Another great concern of mine is the tax dollar. It is a known fact that 45 cents of every tax dollar is slated for the school system.

But I felt more than a year ago, when our economy was actually in a recession stage, that we should take a long and hard look at the situation.

Board Member Norman Hall proposed the establishment of a committee to study the purpose of taking the budget, line item by line item, in order to establish priorities and to trim other non-priority items.

We had only one committee meeting on this problem and it was also a short meeting.

After a very limited discussion, a member proposed that we refer the action back to the administration and instruct them to look into this problem and let the administration advise the board of any recommendations they may have relative to the initial idea of priority.

To this date, I have no knowledge of any such report from the board.

I cannot emphasize enough in effect, the board greets one of the best, if not the best, in the state of Illinois or anywhere else.

Again, I sincerely wish to thank my many friends for their support in the past. And, to everyone, I extend my kindest personal regards.

Election board has ties with party leaders

Editor's Note: This is the second of two articles investigating the workings of the State Board of Elections, a one-year-old agency designated by the Illinois constitution to replace the old State Electoral Board. This article focuses on the patronage opportunities offered by the board.

By SUSAN SACHS

SPRINGFIELD — Like all new agencies, the State Board of Elections, barely past its first birthday, has growing pains.

In fact, talking about the board with employees is a little like a medical examination. A poke near the bottom produces a yelp from the top.

A lot of the little complaints can't be pinned to a specific ailment — just to a general malaise.

What's making the staff of this young agency unhappy? For some, it's a compulsion to maintain an even split between Republicans and Democrats they say interferes with professionalism.

Almost all board employees were sponsored by one of the four board members, each of whom owes his appointment to a party leader in the House or Senate. With no hiring control, the board greets its 32 employees last July to 82 by the end of January.

Chairman Michael Lavelle, for the assistant to the Cook County clerk, insists that it's not political patronage.

It's not patronage in the sense we are suggesting, but it's burst out. "We did not go to the General Assembly and say, 'Give us people.'"

"People are coming to us." But secreted away in locked files are carefully made lists showing each employee, his monthly salary and his benefactor among the four board members.

The political connections of board employees pose a dilemma for the board and its legislative proposals. Lavelle sent a memo instructing employees to "avoid contact with the legislature and their staff" regarding board bills "during working hours."

Unless directed to do so, he wrote, employees are not to lobby for any purpose.

Using the influence of former legislative staffers or friends of politicians who now work for the board could help the agency. But disgruntled employees, or ones who feel a bill might help the other party, could do a lot of harm.

Lavelle's instructions are vague. This memo is not to be construed as an effort to discourage development of amicable relationships with members of the legislative staff," it concludes. "It is instead designed to ensure that our legislative program is properly presented."

The legislature took the Board of Elections out of the province of the governor's Department of Personnel and State Civil Service Code last year, easily overriding Gov. Daniel Walker's veto.

About 30 new employees may be hired before both the fiscal year and the $1.1 million personal services appropriation runs out in July.

Lavelle says a merit system and a board personnel code will be adopted before the agency finishes hiring for the year.

Resistance to Walker's plan about the Board of Elections has characterized its creation since the beginning. The governor does make the final choice of Board members, but chooses from a list of two nominees each from the four legislative orders.

Walker had wanted to make the appointments from his own list, subject to Senate confirmation. He lost the fight, and later complained about the "lackluster" field of nominees from which he had to choose.

The four present board members represent as many strands of party politics as Illinois: Chicago Democratic Sen. Cecil Parnes nominated Lavelle; Southern Illinois Democratic Rep. Clyde Chaste of Anna named Harris; suburban Republican former Rep. W. Robert Blair of Park Forest named Lunding; and Downstate Republican Sen. William Harris of Pontiac named Adams.

All that's missing is Walker's brand of politics — Bourbon by design. The General Assembly in 1973 rejected a plan advocated by Walker to put a fifth "independent" member on the board as a tie-breaker.

The board members are supposed to be part-time, although the salaries are full-time. Lavelle, as chairman, earns $23,000 a year. The other three earn $22,500.

Lavelle, who is one top agency official said "on assignment from Mayor (Richard J. Daley)" says he spends more than 40 hours a week on board business.

He'd like to get the legislature to raise the salary and make the position officially fulltime, he said.

Adams, however, who is state Republican chairman, said he almost wants the legislature to lower the salary, so the chairman would let the agency run itself.

That disagreement is only the tip of a deeper resentment — that Lavelle has too tight a control over the agency. Lavelle maintains, however, that the agency needs nursing through its formative year.

It doesn't mean a thing, he says, that he and Lunding vote together, because they see each other all the time in Chicago and, as two lawyers, develop a deeper understanding of issues before meeting with the two Downstate members.

In fact, Lavelle says, that's an example of how nonpartisan the board's decisions are. As an example of the freedom from Chicago Democratic pressure, Lunding points to a letter held to determine ballot positions for the Chicago mayoral primary. Independent Ald. William Singer, who was challenging Mayor Daley, got the top spot. Daley was second on the ballot.

But Lavelle later pleaded with a reporter not to print information. He implied that it might prove embarrassing.

Fellowship to aid water project

"Water for Women," a program whereby donations will enable a well to be dug for village families in a developing nation whose present water must be carried long distances and is considered impure, was reviewed at last week's meeting of the Christian Women's Fellowship (CWF).

Mrs. Marie Gordon, president, was in charge of the business session and program at Central Christian Church. The "Water for Women" project was explained and those present agreed to help with the project.

It was announced the May Fellowship Tea, sponsored annually by Church Women United of the Quad-Cities, will take place from 1 to 3 p.m. Friday, May 2, at St. John United Church of Christ. Donation to the tea will be $1.50 per person.

Reports were given by Mrs.

Peggy Gibbons and Mrs. Joyce Bennington concerning an earlier meeting. Mrs. Dorothea Rivenburgh, Mrs. Vanna Berkigler and Mrs. Myra Purtille reviewed activities of individual groups.

Many items currently are being made in preparation for the "Strawberry Festival," set from 2 to 7 p.m. June 14 at the church, Mrs. Gordon said.

She appointed Mrs. Mary Lee Lorton as chairman of the mother-daughter banquet on May 3, and reported that Central Christian will be responsible for "Meals on Wheels" deliveries the week of April 21.

"Achieving the Intentional Life" was the program given by Mrs. Mildred Collins. Worship was led by Mrs. Rivenburgh. Hostesses for the social hour were members of Group Two, including Mrs. Beth Spengler, Mrs. Lois Wolf, Mrs. Lorton and Mrs. Berkigler.

Laurie Norris, 4, wins queen title

Laurie Norris, 4-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Norris, 1620 Ferguson Ave., captured the title of "Miss Spring Queen" at a weekend contest held in Indianapolis, Ind.

She received a crown, banner and red roses in winning the event. The competition also featured baton twirling for older contestants.

Laurie has competed in modeling and beauty pageants for the past year and holds 11 titles.

As second runner-up in the recent "Our Little Miss Pageant" at Edwardsville, she now is eligible to compete in the state finals at Rockford in May.

MRS. LEONA PARENTE IS CLUB HOSTESS. Mrs. Leona Parente entertained the Monday Afternoon Club with a luncheon and social meeting in her home, 1621 Lindell Blvd.

The hostess awarded prizes to Mrs. Marie Perry, Mrs. Vi Edwards and Mrs. Kathy Murphy.

Others present were Mrs. Cecil Kennedy, Mrs. Margaret Richardson, Mrs. Myrtle Bruns and a guest, Mrs. Theresa Walkenbach. Mrs. Perry invited the group to her home for the next party.

Eta makes convention plans

Eta Chapter of Phi Tau Omega Sorority met at the Elks Club for a business meeting and to discuss the sorority's national convention, scheduled in June at the Marriott Hotel, St. Louis.

The local chapter will host an evening party. Mrs. Jo Ervay, chairman, reviewed progress on plans for the dinner and entertainment and announced a work meeting in her home Wednesday to prepare table centerpieces for the event.

Registration forms were distributed and Mrs. Shirley Morgan were named to represent the chapter in a "sock hop" jitterbug contest at the convention.

Betty Krug, president, presided at the meeting. Other reports were submitted by Miss Hilda Schroeder on a candy sale; and Mrs. Mary Evelyn Yenchos spoke on a rummage sale to be held Saturday. Mary Lou Richeson reported on a stamp project and Miss Mary Hasler reviewed "scribes of the year" and "member of the year" programs.

It was announced that three new chapters will be installed this month in the national organization, including Alpha Kappa in Arma, Kan., Phi Epsilon, Oklahoma City, Okla., and Beta Nu in Madison. National officers will officiate and Eta members are planning to attend the installation of the Madison chapter on April 26.

Appointed to serve on the April social committee were Lorraine Butler, Hilda Schroeder, Kathryn Weddell and Margaret Yackel.

Miss Hasler received a prize. Others attending were Miss Eunice Hatcher, Miss Dolores Sheridan, Mrs. Evelyn Todd, Mrs. Gladys Waggoner and Mrs. Dorothy Brewster.

58-ers fete birthday members

The 58-ers 4-H Club met at St. John United Church of Christ with 28 members answering roll call by naming their individual project for the year.

Susan Sigle conducted the meeting. She introduced a new member, Kelly Ault, and Mary Jo and Mary Ann Welle and Debbie Aerne who marked birthdays this month. Mrs. Arla Ault was a guest.

Cynthia Goeller and Mary Jo Welle led the pledges.

The members planned to entertain their mothers at the May 1 meeting. Those appointed to complete the arrangements were Susan Sigle, Karen Spencer, Dina Long, Debbie Aerne, Shannon Bushue, Mary Ann and Mary Jo Welle.

Other dates announced were June 30, beginning foods demonstrations; July 5, advanced foods demonstration; and July 10-11, county achievement days.

Talks were given by Rhonda Reish, whose topic was "ceramics"; Eddie Schilling, "cleanliness"; Debbie Reading, "preventing cuts"; Lisa

Griffey, "selecting your sewing tools"; and Mary Ann Welle, "being clean before cooking."

Tracy Johnson demonstrated "How to Set a Perfect Table"; Shannon Bushue spoke on "Coffee Cake with Toppings"; Denise Reading on "How to Bake Chicken"; and Helen Goeller displayed finished ceramic projects.

Recreation was provided by Janet Scannell, Patty Basarich and Lisa Scannell, and chocolate cupcakes and soft drinks were served by Rhonda Reish and Debbie Aerne.

Others present were Laura Dyer, Sue Basarich, Michelle Jeness, Donna Jones and the club leaders, Mrs. Alyce Sigle and Mrs. Joanna Spencer.

The Touch-Tone® Phone.

Try it and you'll never go back.

There are plenty of good, practical reasons for having Touch-Tone service.

It's faster. Easier to use. More contemporary looking.

And you'll probably make fewer mistakes in dialing.

Besides all that, though, it's just plain more fun.

All those little buttons sound like musical notes.

So you never know when you might call a number that sounds like "Yes, We Have No Bananas" or maybe even "You Ain't Nothin' But A Hound Dog."

Touch-Tone service costs only $1.75 per month plus the standard installation fee and a $5.00 one-time charge.

And you choose from a variety of styles and colors including our standard desk phone or our stylish Trimline® or Princess® models.

Just call your Illinois Bell Service Representative for details.

Fifth Ward improvements issue in Madison voting

DONALD E. GARRETT

Major expansion of Madison Fifth Ward services is being called for by Donald E. Garrett in his campaign for an aldermanic post in that ward April 15.

The candidate resides at 401 W. 2nd St. He told the Press-Record, "I am a lifelong resident of the City of Madison, active in numerous civic and community activities."

"Of these, the three most important are: NAACP, YMCA and the Madison-Venice-Lesley Newsboys Club, of which I am director."

"I attended both Washington University and Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, majoring in communication and journalism."

"I am the father of one child, Joyce, age five. I have adopted her brother, Donald, seven, and Robin, 11. I am presently employed as editor of the East St. Louis Monitor newspaper, 1501 State St., East St. Louis."

"My goal in political life is to inspire other Americans, especially black Americans, to get involved in the political process at all levels of government."

"Newspapers and members of the journalistic profession are always constantly urging others to get involved in politics. I feel, therefore, that it is a moral obligation on my part not only to urge others, but to set an example."

"I feel that as many of us in the journalistic field as possible should become involved in politics wherever and whenever it is practically possible."

Garrett continued, "At this point I want specifically to serve the voters in Ward Five, which is where I live."

"Ward Five is the forgotten ward in the City of Madison. The city administration shows absolutely no concern for the needs of the citizens in Ward Five, and the present alderman shows even less."

"The present alderman has one of those $12,000-plus party patronage jobs and this causes him to take care of the needs of the party rather than the needs of the voters who elected him."

"The issues in this election are numerous and clear-cut."

"Of the many issues to be discussed, the three most important are those dealing with housing, employment and recreation."

"In each of these areas, my opponent and the city administration have completely neglected the West Madison black community."

"Needless to say, if I am elected I shall work hard to correct the inequities and injustices and neglected conditions I have listed. "None of the politicians care about the needs of the people who live there."

"If the West Madison black community needs anything, it needs programs to help black citizens build and restore their own homes."

"Many lots stand empty, filled with weeds. "And many houses stand derelict, abandoned and empty, because the city administration refuses to become involved in programs which give financial aid to home owners, even though these programs are available."

"When it comes to employment, black citizens in Madison are once again treated as second-class citizens. One has only to take a look around City Hall in Madison to see how the administration feels about hiring blacks."

"Except for a few black policemen and a few street cleaners, the City Hall work force is totally white."

"The City of Madison is definitely not an equal opportunity employer. Blacks make up approximately 28 percent of the city's population."

"There are absolutely no recreational facilities in the West Madison area of any note. "The West Madison Memorial Center, which was built to serve the recreational, civic and social needs of senior citizens, young adults and teenagers in West Madison, is now used only for teenage dances."

"There are no parks, no playgrounds and no swimming pools in West Madison."

"In fact, the only swimming pool in the whole city was covered with dirt to keep blacks out."

"Streets in West Madison remain half-paved while in the rest of the city they are fully paved. This is one more indication that the city has forgotten West Madison."

"There will be no money this summer for jobs for youths or adults. There will be no money for recreational facilities."

"There will be no money to pave the streets. There will be no money to aid the homeowners. Why?"

"The city administration is going to spend $100,000 of revenue sharing money to help the businessmen on Madison Avenue build storefronts."

"And it is going to spend another $100,000 of revenue sharing money to help businessmen install burglar alarm systems."

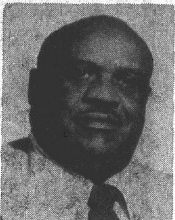

"Yet, the purpose of revenue sharing money is to help the poor, the disadvantaged and minority groups, and for community programs and services."

"To use such funds for any other purpose is to deprive citizens, young and old, black and white, of much-needed jobs, aid, shelter and recreation."

"As is well known, Madison is a racially divided community, because the administration prefers it that way."

"The racially divisive policies of the city administration have filtered into the school system and are wreaking havoc upon it."

"If elected, I promise to work with grassroots people to correct this unnecessary and deplorable situation," Garrett concludes.

JOHN H. HAYNES

John H. Haynes, 38, of 301 W. 2nd St., Madison, an alderman for the past 31 years, seeks election to an eighth four-year term next Tuesday, April 15.

He is opposed by Donald E. Garrett, editor of the East St. Louis Monitor.

Born in Bonita, La., the veteran Fifth Ward alderman has resided in Madison 39 years, including many years as a compliance officer on the staff of the Illinois Department of Revenue.

Haynes was educated in Madison, attending Dunbar Schools, and has been active in Mount Nebo Baptist Church of Madison, the Madison City Organization and Madison County Democratic Central Committee.

He has served as chairman of Boy Scout Troop 45 and has been active in the Madison County Mental Health Society and Tri-Cities Area United Way.

He has served as a director of the Urban League of Madison and St. Clair Counties and as an officer of the Venice Township Democratic Committee.

Alderman Haynes is married and has two foster children, Vivian ReNea and Edwardo Chaudie, and a daughter, Mrs. Shirley Myers.

He has pledged to "continue to serve the people and support the progressive programs undertaken by the city."

Alderman Haynes adds that he "believes in capable, reliable and dependable administration of city affairs."

He has attended Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and is a member of the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service.

Formerly employed as a Madison County deputy sheriff, he was treasurer of the deputies' association. His present Revenue Department position is that of investigator.

Haynes is active in the Madison-Venice Rotary Club.

1,805 students honored at SIUE

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville had 1,805 students qualifying for the Dean's List for the winter quarter. Perfect averages were compiled by 396 students.

To qualify for the Dean's List, a student must maintain a grade point average of 4.25 or better (B is equivalent to 4.0, A to 5.0).
